VC Make Cambodia Land Grab

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — The Cambodian government, faced with sharply mounting pressure from the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese, has decided reluctantly to cede almost half the country to enemy control, well informed diplomatic sources said today.

The disclosure came as military sources reported that enemy troops seized nearly half of the provincial capital of Kompong Speu, 30 miles south of Phnom Penh in heavy fighting.

Refugees from the town, which lies on the only highway open to Cambodia's major port of Kompong Som, formerly Sihanoukville, said the enemy held the central market and virtually all of that part of the town which lies south of a river bisecting it.

Western military experts termed the decision to cede territory to the enemy realistic, and said that even by concentrating its forces around Phnom Penh and northwest of the capital, the government will have only a 50-50 chance of surviving the next four or five months of monsoon rains.

Port Threatened

The threat to the port of Kompong Som, through which all of Phnom Penh's fuel and other vital supplies must pass could have critical consequences.

Enemy troops also made a strong attack 50 miles northeast of Phnom Penh in what could be a prelude to new assaults on the key Mekong River town of Kompong Cham.

Spokesmen said the fighting at Siem Reap, near the Angkor temple ruins, had subsided, but strong enemy forces were still in the area.

Territory Written Off

The diplomats said Premier Lon Nol's government, in assessing its prospects, had written off the extensive eastern territory in which U.S. and South Vietnamese forces have been operating. With its army and strategic reserves already spread dangerously thin, the sources said the government realizes that much of the area east and south of Phnom Penh will revert to Communist control if the U.S. and South Vietnamese leave.

Lose Control Of Area

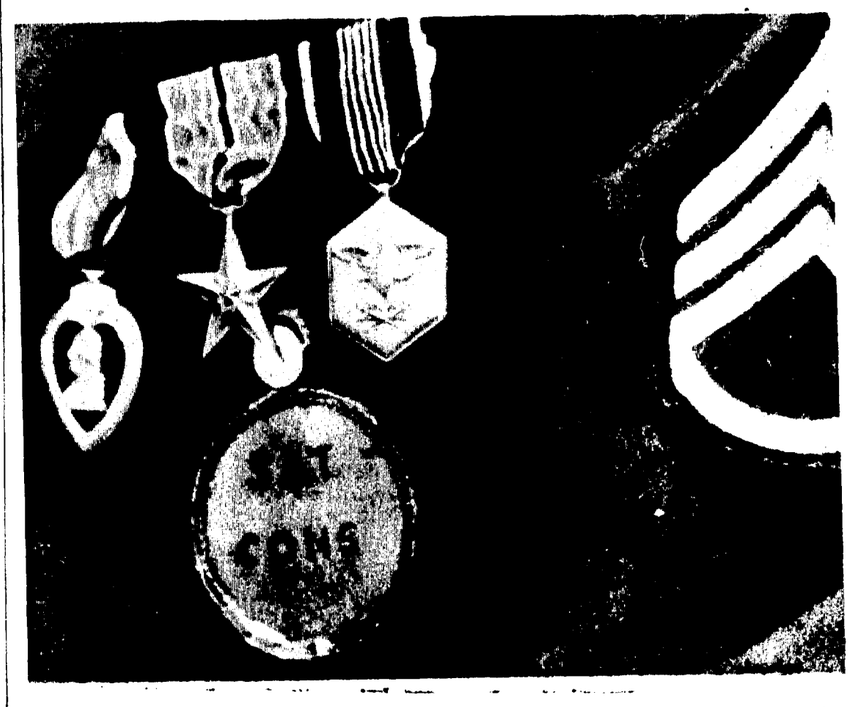

Already the government has lost control of vast areas in the northeast and the situation there worsens almost daily. But the area around Phnom Penh and the rice belt stretching northwest around the giant Tonle Sap lake will be defended at all costs, diplomatic sources said.

They said this is also true of Battambang and Siem Reap, two provincial capitals west and north of the Tonle Sap. Both cities are military regional headquarters and are astride the only roads to Thailand. These roads may become the government's lifeline to the outside world in the months to come.

Fight Still Rages

Reports from Kompong Speu indicated the fighting was still going on. A government spokesman said he considered the attack a threat to Phnom Penh, even though the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese have penetrated much closer to the capital in the past.

"The Communists have never given up the idea of attacking Phnom Penh one day," the spokesman said.

58 Amman Hostages Reportedly Released

By The Associated Press

Fifty-eight foreigners held hostage in Amman were reported released today, but Egypt's Middle East News Agency reported that a commando group was holding the widow of an American military attache killed by guerrillas in the Jordanian capital earlier this week.

A guerrilla organization in Beirut announced that the radical Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine this morning released the 58 Americans, Britons and other foreigners it had help captive for more than 36 hours in Amman's two main hotels.

Diplomats in the Lebanese capital confirmed the report, but had no details. Regular communication channels with the Jordanian capital were still cut.

The American woman reported a prisoner of the commandos was the widow of Maj. Robert P. Perry of Chicago, an attache of the U.S. Embassy in Amman who was killed by a group of guerrillas who invaded his residence Wednesday at the height of the fighting between the Palestinians and Jordanian troops.

Earlier reports said Mrs. Perry and two of their three children were present when Perry was killed, but the Egyptian report today made no mention of the children. Nor did it give the circumstances of the reported capture of the woman.

As the Palestine guerrillas refused to be satisfied by concessions from King Hussein of Jordan and made new demands, U.S. officials were preparing to evacuate about 400 Americans living in Jordan.

In Washington, the White House said only "precautionary planning" was being done. But a representative of the International Red Cross arrived in Amman today to arrange the evacuation, and three Lebanese jetliners were standing by in Beirut to fly the evacuees to Athens.

SAUGATUCK (AP)—A campfire has been blamed for a blaze which burned nearly one half mile of Lake Michigan's shoreline.

Tornado Hits Arkansas City; 25 Persons Hurt

SPRINGDALE, Ark. (AP) — A tornado hit this mountain town of 16,000 late Thursday night and injured about 25 persons.

Hugh Means, administrator of Springdale Memorial Hospital, said about 25 persons were treated in the hospital's emergency room and about a half dozen of them were hospitalized.

"We believe the area hardest hit has been pretty thoroughly searched and have no reason to believe any more major injuries will come to our attention," Means said.

The injuries included fractured skulls, broken arms, a punctured lung and several cases of shock, he said.

National Guardsmen living in the area were called to duty to assist in searches of damaged houses and buildings.

Telephone service was disrupted. Surrounding communities dispatched ambulances and law enforcement personnel to Springdale, which is about 190 miles northwest of Little Rock.

17-Year Locusts Leaving Burrows; Damage Feared

By The Associated Press

The so-called 17-year locusts have emerged from their underground burrows in various parts of the nation to drum their familiar mating song through another summer.

A survey showed today the outbreak of the insects, which are actually misnamed periodic cicadas, has primarily occurred in wooded areas of the East and Middle West.

Particularly heavy concentrations were reported only in certain areas of Indiana. Along Fall Creek in northeast Indianapolis the insects were almost as thick as swarming bees and the noise of the incessantly drummed love songs was deafening.

Although the cicadas generally cause little damage to plant life, they have cut through the branches of many maple, mulberry and fruit trees in the Fall Creek area.

The cicadas caused slight damage to fruit trees in northeastern West Virginia.

In Minneapolis, entomologists said the outbreak was not severe and they were not recommending anything for controlling the insects.

18-Year-Olds Find Friend In McCormack

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Speaker John W. McCormack, whose 78 years have made him a target of the young, is making his last big legislative fight an attempt to win the vote for 18-year-olds.

The speaker, who is retiring from the House after this session of Congress, is pushing hard for passage of a bill that would extend the Voting Rights Act of 1965 and lower the voting age to 18.

Largely as a result of his efforts, backers of the bill are confident they have the votes to send it to the White House when the House takes it up Wednesday.

McCormack has been calling on members who are undecided or actually in opposition to the bill and asking for their support.

"He puts it right to you," a recipient of one of his calls says. "He says this is going to be his last big vote and he wants you with him. I'm not for the 18-year-old vote, but I'm going to vote with the speaker."

Passage of the bill would also be sweet revenge for the speaker for a painful setback he and the other House leaders suffered last December when the chamber rejected an extension of the Voting Rights Act in favor of a milder, broader administration measure.

The 1965 act zeroes in on the South and has been credited with adding nearly one million blacks to the voter rolls in seven Southern states.

Anti-Cambodia Victory May Be Only Symbolic

WASHINGTON (AP) — Anti-war forces in the Senate have paved the way for expected approval of a proposal to curtail future U.S. actions in Cambodia, but the victory could be more symbolic than substantial because of continued White House and House opposition.

The Senate defeated 52-47 Thursday a key administration-backed amendment by Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., that proponents said would have emasculated the curb on presidential war powers. Both sides said the vote signified passage of the Cooper-Church amendment next week.

Fund Cut Bill Set

With the Byrd vote out of the way, the Senate turned its attention today to an amendment by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., to cut all funds out of the military sales appropriation bill for gifts and credit sales of firearms or military equipment to other nations.

The appropriations measure has been the vehicle for the Cambodia limitation effort sponsored by Sens. Frank Church, D-Idaho, and John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky.

Williams also wanted to remove a section of the bill expressing congressional support for credit sales to Israel. But Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., blocked any quick vote on that.

Opposite Points Of View

Many strong supporters of the Cooper-Church amendment oppose the military sales authority provisions of the bill. Both the House and the Nixon administration have a diametrically opposite point of view.

Thus, the Cooper-Church forces in the Senate hope to use the administration's strong desire for the militry sales authority as a lever on the House when the bill goes to conference, assuming the Senate approves it.

Church hailed Thursday's action as "a proud day for the Senate" and added:

"The vote was historic in the sense it represents the first time the Senate has undertaken to define the outer limits of a theater of war."

Sen. Cooper predicted defeat of other attempts to revise the amendment, expected to be offered next weeek by Byrd, and Sens. William B. Spong Jr., D-Va., and Charles Percy, R-Ill.

S. Vietnamese Casualties High

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese forces have lost more men in the five weeks since the Cambodian offensive began than in any similar period in the Vietnam war, and U.S. battle deaths for the same five weeks are the highest in 10 months.

Weekly casualty figures compiled from May 3 through last Saturday list 3,326 government troopers killed in action and 8,500 wounded in both Cambodia and South Vietnam. U.S. losses in both countries in that time were 811 killed and 4,970 wounded.

The allies claim to have killed 17,952 enemy in that same period—more than 10,000 in Cambodia—but the methods of gathering these figures are often challenged.

The previous record for South Vietnamese battle deaths for any five-week period was during the enemy's nationwide Tet offensive. That was in 1968, and from late January through most of February 3,158 government troops died.

The last time Americans suffered greater battle casualties was in a five-week period was from late last July through August when 854 were killed and 6,029 wounded during an enemy high point.

West Berliner Kidnap Victim

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — The Brazilian government said Thursday night that it would do all it could to obtain the safe release of West German Ambassador Ehrenfried von Holleben, kidnaped by leftist terrorists who killed a Brazilian security guard and wounded two others.

The military government of President Emilio Garrastazu Medici was expected to meet the kidnapers' demand that political prisoners be exchanged for the 61-year-old diplomat. But pamphlets left by the kidnapers did not say what prisoners they wanted or even how many.

Von Holleben was snatched by about eight young people Thursday evening as he was returning home in his chauffeur-driven Mercedes Benz.

As the car rounded a sharp turn two blocks from the ambassador's residence, his youthful abductors shot out a street light, rammed the front of his car with a jeep and machine gunned a station wagon carrying security men behind the Mercedes, witnesses said.

Two young armed men then forced their way into von Holleben's car, gunning to death a Brazilian security agent in the front seat as he reached for his pistol. While others covered the two wounded security men who had been in the station wagon, the ambassador was dragged from his car and driven away in a waiting Chevrolet.

Survey Turns Up Child Addicts

WASHINGTON (AP) — A house-to-house survey of a 40-block area of Harlem turned up 18,000 hard drug addicts including 2,000 children between the ages of seven and 15, Congress has been told.

And 90 per cent of those children lived by themselves.

The result of the survey was supplied to a House Appropriations subcommittee last April by Dr. Stanley F. Yolles, then director of the National Institute of Mental Health.

Dr. Yolles, in the closed-door testimony made public today, said that "In the area of hard narcotics and especially heroin addiction, I believe the committee would be interested to know that a brief survey was done in Harlem, a house-to-house survey of tenants in a 40-block area.

"The results of that survey showed that there were 22,000 adults, some 30,000 children, and some 6,000 individuals who lived in streets and alleys in this 40-block area.

"Of that number, there were 10,000 addicted adults, 6,000 children between the ages of 16 and 21 who were addicted and 2,000 children between the ages of seven and 15 who were addicted.

"Of the 2,000 children, aged seven to 15, 90 per cent lived by themselves without the presence of an adult in their immediate environment. This is what we are dealing with in the United States."

Dr. Yolles, who has since resigned, said it is estimated there now are between 100,000 and 150,000 hard narcotics addicts in the nation.

"I think we are all aware of the epidemic, if you will call it that, of drug abuse and hard narcotics usage in New York City," he said. "We are approaching the rate of three deaths per day from overdose of narcotics in New York City."

"Mostly juveniles?" asked subcommittee chairman Daniel J. Flood, D-Pa.

"Yes sir, a high percentage of them are juveniles," Dr. Yolles replied. In the first third of this year there were 170 deaths from overdoses of narcotics in New York City, he said. "During 1969 there were some 900 deaths, of which 224 were teenagers. That rate is still going up."

Griffin's Backing Of Nixon's Policies Worries Supporters

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pressure and conflict pursue Robert P. Griffin relentlessly.

Even at home his 19-year-old son vigorously opposes the Vietnam war while a 17-year-old collects pictures of Barry Goldwater.

The assistant Republican leader of the U.S. Senate can dismiss this quirk with a philosophical wave of the hand. But it is symbolic of other pressures, mounting daily, that keep him awake nights between 16 to 20-hour working days.

Hasn't Caught On

Prolonged Senate debate on the invasion of Cambodia has thrust Griffin back onto the national stage where, despite dramatic success in championing controversial issue, he has never quite caught on.

But Griffin's increasing defense of the administration is causing worry among some friends and supporters. They feel he has taken a turn to the right that could harm him politically in Washington and in his labor-dominated home state of Michigan where faint rumblings can be heard.

Others—not quite so friendly—feel the Republican whip is too ambitious.

Wants Scott's Job?

They accuse him—anonymously—of trying to shoulder aside GOP Leader Hugh Scott, a 69-year-old Pennsylvanian trying to preserve the necessary liberal credentials for re-election this year.

Griffin denies both charges.

"I don't look at things in terms of right or left," says the 46-year-old small town lawyer in the slow, cautious tones that are the hallmark of his public image. "In close situations, I believe in giving my president the benefit of the doubt."

With a resigned sigh, Griffin also denies the widespread but only whispered accusations that he is after Scott's job.

"Really," he says, "the best thing that could happen to me would be for Hugh to shore up his position so there just isn't any doubt he'll be re-elected. Life would be much simpler."

Murmurs Noted

Nevertheless, the murmurings behind his back—which Griffin acknowledges are the price of leadership—go on. They add to the pressures that friend and enemy agree make his present situation the roughest in the Senate.

Those pressures began almost the instant Griffin was elected whip. A compromise choice, the election was accomplished with the help of a dozen or so liberal-moderates who, with some justification, consider themselves the Senate's real Republican power brokers.

Fortas Case Recalled

Only a few months earlier Abe Fortas had resigned from the Supreme Court following conflict of interest charges. The move appeared to vindicate Griffin's lonely battle of a year earlier to block Fortas' nomination as chief justice.

The liberal-moderates were elated when Griffin, shortly after becoming whip, broke with the White House on the high court nomination of Clement F. Haynsworth Jr.

His decision was a crucial factor in Haynsworth's defeat.

A 10-year congressman from a conservative Michigan district before going to the Senate in 1966, Griffin further endeared himself to the liberal-moderates by siding with them in fights over minority hiring and voting rights proposals.

Then came the Supreme Court nomination of G. Harrold Carswell.

Scott Campaigns

Scott was away campaigning much of the time in a state where the Carswell nomination was not popular anyway. Griffin felt it his duty to fill the leadership void. But he confided to friends that he was not happy with the nomination. And he managed to convey an air of reluctance.

It was the U.S. attack into Cambodia that brought his troubles bubbling near the surface.

"It was several weeks ago we began to get the impression he was setting himself up as the man the White House talks to in the Senate," says one of the liberal-moderates.

"He was running with Dole and that crowd," says this man, referring to Republican Robert J. Dole of Kansas, one of the Senate's most outspoken conservatives. "We told him very clearly he has no future here or in Michigan with that bunch."

Agrees With Nixon

"Basically, I agree with the President on the Cambodian decision," Griffin says. "It was within his constitutional powers and I believe history will prove him right."

His chunky frame relaxing in dark blue suit, Griffin commented as his limousine speeds him to the airport from a losing floor fight in support of the President. His eyes behind plastic-rimmed glasses are thoughtful, his roundish, unlined face serious.

He was headed for yet another of the interminable fund raising dinners where he would say, as he has at similar functions for weeks, "We must be proud of the President for a courageous decision."

But behind him in the Capitol the debates continue—on the floor its Cambodia, in the corridors its Robert Paul Griffin.

Low Enlistments Could Hurt Draft

WASHINGTON (AP) — An unexpected drop in Army enlistments last month could herald trouble for Pentagon hopes of cutting the draft to as low as 150,000 men this year.

The Army said enlistments in May totaled 7,629—nearly 3,500 below the month's objective.

Officials were unable to explain the drop, except to note a sharp upturn in antiwar demonstration during May as a result of the U.S. drive into Cambodia.

Defense officials indicated they will pay close attention to the trend in enlistments this month and next—when the end of school traditionally brings more volunteers—in hopes the situation rights itself.

Any deficit in enlistments is made up by increasing draft calls in future months.

The Pentagon Thursday announced a July draft call of 15,000 young men for the Army.

Sources said this call would have been lower were it not for the unanticipated fall off in last month's enlistments.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird has said draft inductions this year hopefully will fall as low as 150,000 men, compared with nearly double that, 290,000, in 1969.

Defense authorities are now saying the 1970 draft total probably will not drop that low and the Pentagon has started hedging somewhat on Laird's forecast, using an expected range of between 150,000 and 180,000.

If the enlistment situation gets back on the predicted track, draft calls could go down significantly in the last five months of 1970.

Quotas already announced for the first seven months of the year total 114,500. This leaves a balance of less than 36,000 to reach the 150,000 mark and nearly 66,000 if total inductions for the year climb to 180,000.

This would work out to monthly draft quotas as low as 7,000 plus from August through December—unless voluntary enlistments fail to recover their momentum.

While others covered the two wounded security men who had been in the station wagon, the ambassador was dragged from his car and driven away in a waiting Chevrolet.

Survey Turns Up Child Addicts

WASHINGTON (AP) — A house-to-house survey of a 40-block area of Harlem turned up 18,000 hard drug addicts including 2,000 children between the ages of seven and 15, Congress has been told.

And 90 per cent of those children lived by themselves.

The result of the survey was supplied to a House Appropriations subcommittee last April by Dr. Stanley F. Yolles, then director of the National Institute of Mental Health.

Dr. Yolles, in the closed-door testimony made public today, said that "In the area of hard narcotics and especially heroin addiction, I believe the committee would be interested to know that a brief survey was done in Harlem, a house-to-house survey of tenants in a 40-block area.

"The results of that survey showed that there were 22,000 adults, some 30,000 children, and some 6,000 individuals who lived in streets and alleys in this 40-block area.

"Of that number, there were 10,000 addicted adults, 6,000 children between the ages of 16 and 21 who were addicted and 2,000 children between the ages of seven and 15 who were addicted.

"Of the 2,000 children, aged seven to 15, 90 per cent lived by themselves without the presence of an adult in their immediate environment. This is what we are dealing with in the United States."

Dr. Yolles, who has since resigned, said it is estimated there now are between 100,000 and 150,000 hard narcotics addicts in the nation.

"I think we are all aware of the epidemic, if you will call it that, of drug abuse and hard narcotics usage in New York City," he said. "We are approaching the rate of three deaths per day from overdose of narcotics in New York City."

"Mostly juveniles?" asked subcommittee chairman Daniel J. Flood, D-Pa.

"Yes sir, a high percentage of them are juveniles," Dr. Yolles replied. In the first third of this year there were 170 deaths from overdoses of narcotics in New York City, he said. "During 1969 there were some 900 deaths, of which 224 were teenagers. That rate is still going up."

Today's Chuckle

These days the fresh air fiend is one who keeps the window tightly closed.

Griffin's Backing Of Nixon's Policies Worries Supporters

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pressure and conflict pursue Robert P. Griffin relentlessly.

Even at home his 19-year-old son vigorously opposes the Vietnam war while a 17-year-old collects pictures of Barry Goldwater.

The assistant Republican leader of the U.S. Senate can dismiss this quirk with a philosophical wave of the hand. But it is symbolic of other pressures, mounting daily, that keep him awake nights between 16 to 20-hour working days.

Hasn't Caught On

Prolonged Senate debate on the invasion of Cambodia has thrust Griffin back onto the national stage where, despite dramatic success in championing controversial issue, he has never quite caught on.

But Griffin's increasing defense of the administration is causing worry among some friends and supporters. They feel he has taken a turn to the right that could harm him politically in Washington and in his labor-dominated home state of Michigan where faint rumblings can be heard.

Others—not quite so friendly—feel the Republican whip is too ambitious.

Wants Scott's Job?

They accuse him—anonymously—of trying to shoulder aside GOP Leader Hugh Scott, a 69-year-old Pennsylvanian trying to preserve the necessary liberal credentials for re-election this year.

Griffin denies both charges.

"I don't look at things in terms of right or left," says the 46-year-old small town lawyer in the slow, cautious tones that are the hallmark of his public image. "In close situations, I believe in giving my president the benefit of the doubt."

With a resigned sigh, Griffin also denies the widespread but only whispered accusations that he is after Scott's job.

"Really," he says, "the best thing that could happen to me would be for Hugh to shore up his position so there just isn't any doubt he'll be re-elected. Life would be much simpler."

Murmurs Noted

Nevertheless, the murmurings behind his back—which Griffin acknowledges are the price of leadership—go on. They add to the pressures that friend and enemy agree make his present situation the roughest in the Senate.

Those pressures began almost the instant Griffin was elected whip. A compromise choice, the election was accomplished with the help of a dozen or so liberal-moderates who, with some justification, consider themselves the Senate's real Republican power brokers.

Fortas Case Recalled

Only a few months earlier Abe Fortas had resigned from the Supreme Court following conflict of interest charges. The move appeared to vindicate Griffin's lonely battle of a year earlier to block Fortas' nomination as chief justice.

The liberal-moderates were elated when Griffin, shortly after becoming whip, broke with the White House on the high court nomination of Clement F. Haynsworth Jr.

His decision was a crucial factor in Haynsworth's defeat.

A 10-year congressman from a conservative Michigan district before going to the Senate in 1966, Grifin further endeared himself to the liberal-moderates by siding with them in fights over minority hiring and voting rights proposals.

Then came the Supreme Court nomination of G. Harrold Carswell.

Scott Campaigns

Scott was away campaigning much of the time in a state where the Carswell nomination was not popular anyway. Griffin felt it his duty to fill the leadership void. But he confided to friends that he was not happy with the nomination. And he managed to convey an air of reluctance.

It was the U.S. attack into Cambodia that brought his troubles bubbling near the surface.

"It was several weeks ago we began to get the impression he was setting himself up as the man the White House talks to in the Senate," says one of the liberal-moderates.

"He was running with Dole and that crowd," says this man, referring to Republican Robert J. Dole of Kansas, one of the Senate's most outspoken conservatives. "We told him very clearly he has no future here or in Michigan with that bunch."

Agrees With Nixon

"Basically, I agree with the President on the Cambodian decision," Griffin says. "It was within his constitutional powers and I believe history will prove him right."

His chunky frame relaxing in dark blue suit, Griffin commented as his limousine speeds him to the airport from a losing floor fight in support of the President. His eves behind plastic-rimmed glasses are thoughtful, his roundish, unlined face serious.

He was headed for yet another of the interminable fund raising dinners where he would say, as he has at similar functions for weeks, "We must be proud of the President for a courageous decision."

But behind him in the Capitol the debates continue—on the floor its Cambodia, in the corridors its Robert Paul Griffin.

Low Enlistments Could Hurt Draft

WASHINGTON (AP) — An unexpected drop in Army enlistments last month could herald trouble for Pentagon hopes of cutting the draft to as low as 150,000 men this year.

The Army said enlistments in May totaled 7,629—nearly 3,500 below the month's objective.

Officials were unable to explain the drop, except to note a sharp upturn in antiwar demonstration during May as a result of the U.S. drive into Cambodia.

Defense officials indicated they will pay close attention to the trend in enlistments this month and next—when the end of school traditionally brings more volunteers—in hopes the situation rights itself.

Any deficit in enlistments is made up by increasing draft calls in future months.

The Pentagon Thursday announced a July draft call of 15,000 young men for the Army.

Sources said this call would have been lower were it not for the unanticipated fall off in last month's enlistments.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird has said draft inductions this year hopefully will fall as low as 150,000 men, compared with nearly double that, 290,000, in 1969.

Defense authorities are now saying the 1970 draft total probably will not drop that low and the Pentagon has started hedging somewhat on Laird's forecast, using an expected range of between 150,000 and 180,000.

If the enlistment situation gets back on the predicted track, draft calls could go down significantly in the last five months of 1970.

Quotas already announced for the first seven months of the year total 114,500. This leaves a balance of less than 36,000 to reach the 150,000 mark and nearly 66,000 if total inductions for the year climb to 180,000.

This would work out to monthly draft quotas as low as 7,000 plus from August through December—unless voluntary enlistments fail to recover their momentum.

Luft Turns Down Position As Head Of New District

HERMANSVILLE — Lester Johnson, president of the Interim Board of Education of the newly consolidated Hermansville - Powers - Spalding School Districts, said today that Clifford Luft, who was selected as superintendent of the new district, has not accepted the position offered him by the board.

Luft was elected by a 4-3 vote of the Interim Board at a meeting held on Thursday, June 4, but since then much controversy has resulted.

"The basic reason I have not accepted the position," said Luft this morning, "is that with all the controversy that has resulted, it would be best to step out at this time and allow the board to reconsider its selection.

"It is best to get a newly reorganzed district off to a good start and it will be difficult to get a good start with all this controversy."

Luft also said that he has made no plans for the future.

The Interim Board is scheduled to meet at 7:30 p. m. Monday, June 15, at the Powers School.

At a meeting Wednesday of the Committee to Save Our Consolidated Schools—a group supporting Jerome Albright of Powers as the new superintendent—Edward Faccio of Hermansville said harrassing telephone calls had ben made to both Luft and his wife.

Faccio said the calls were not obscene or threatening, but persistent and demanding.

A member of the committee said a basic plank in the committee's platform was that nothing of an anonymous or secretive nature be used, but that an appeal be made to the reason of the public.

Inez McChalk of Hermansville a Powers teacher, said that she and Mike Forsberg, Powers coach, visited Luft to show him the petition the committee was circulating and to assure him that the committee and Powers teachers weren't anti-Luft.

The petition reads:

"We, the undersigned, of the 4th Class School District No. 6, Menominee County, State of Michigan, feel that Jerome K. Albright is best qualified to be appointed as superintendent of the above-named district. We also support the appointment of Clifford Luft to another administrative position within this district. This action is taken to promote harmony and best serve the interest of our newly-consolidated district. We request that the Interim Board rescind their previous appointment in favor of our above recommendations. We also agree that this petition, in its entirety, will be publically displayed."

Election Reform Bill Passage Foreseen

LANSING (AP) —An election reform bill, aimed at consolidating voters' trips to polls across the state, has been turned into a vehicle that some Detroit-area lawmakers hope to use to unravel the tangled problem of decentralizing that city's giant school district.

The Senate Thursday moved the election bill, calling for odd-year elections of many judges and city officials, into position for a final vote.

As approved by the House, the bill slated odd-year elections for all judicial officers, other than justices of the supreme court and judges of the appeals court, if a constitutional amendment authorizing such elections were adopted.

The measure further stipulated odd-year elections for city officers and members of boards of education of most school districts, intermediate school districts and boards of trustees of community colleges.

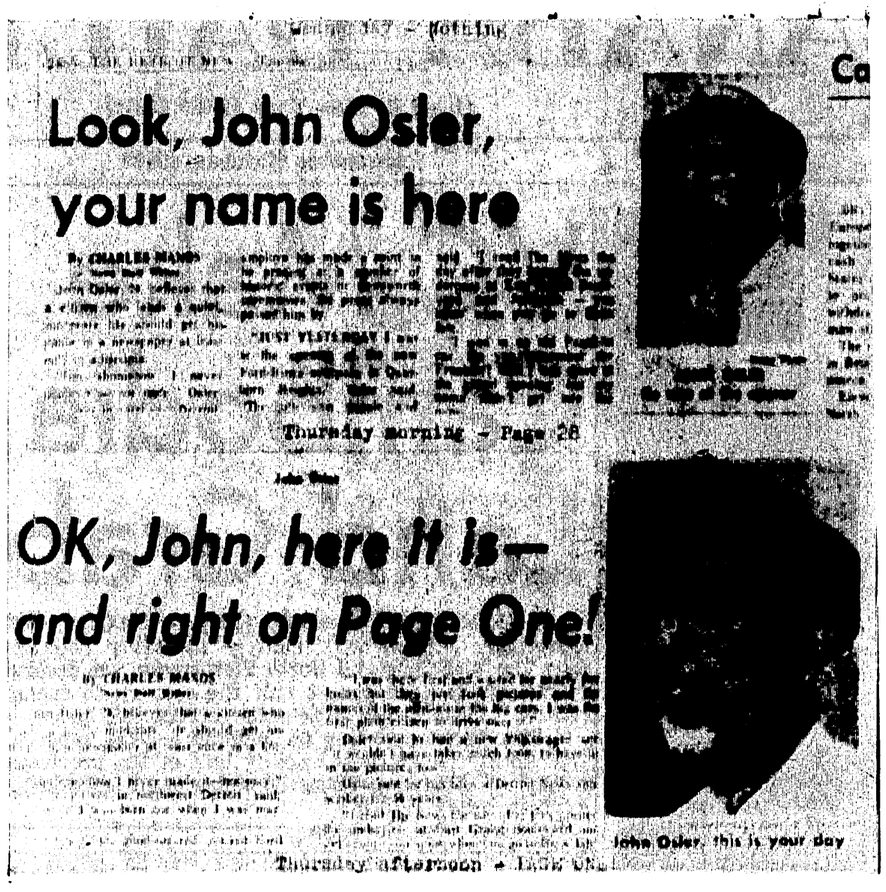

Municipal officials now are elected in April, school officials in June and judges in November of even-numbered years.

As amended in preliminary Senate action Thursday, however, the measure would not apply to any school district but Detroit. A long hassle over a Detroit decentralization law remains in limbo in the legislature.

Under the senate amendment, sponsored by Sen. George Kuhn, R-Birmingham, election of regional school boards —mandated in the law being questioned by some conservative Detroit lawmakers and voters - would be postponed from this fall to next year, an odd-numbered election yar.

Sen. Raymond Dzendzle, D-Detroit, said enactment of the amendment in the election bill would "stay off decentralization for one more year and give us time to continue negotiations" on the question.

The law at issue is one passed last year that requires decentralization of the 300,000 - pupil district into 7-11 regions. Each region would have a separate board, with one main board at the top of the pyramid.

He complained of the lack of coverage to the Detroit News. He made page 28 of an early edition and page one later. (AP Wirephoto)

Accident Report Forms Of Police To Be Changed

The Michigan State Police will instruct all Upper Peninsula law enforcement department representatives in the use of the revised state traffic accident reporting form during a series of five training sessions June 22-25, Col. Frederick E. Davids, department director, announces.

Locations and starting times for the two-hour sessions are:

Monday, June 22, at 1 p. m., State Police, Sault Ste. Marie.

Tuesday, June 23, at 10 a. m., State Police, Marquette; at 2 p. m., State Building conference room, Escanaba.

Wednesday, June 24, at 10 a. m., State Police, Iron River.

Thursday, June 25, at 10 a. m., city police department, Houghton.

The new form, which is being implemented July 1 in the Upper Peninsula and statewide by about the first of the year, was first field tested by police agencies in the Ingham county and Jackson post areas. Following that, it was put into use by all police agencies in the counties of Kent, Genesee and Kalamazoo.

The revised report is a one-page record designed to simplify and expedite the investigating and reporting of traffic accidents. It has provision for a supplement where in-depth analysis of special types of accidents is wanted.

The new form is the first major revision in 12 years. Under study a year and a half, it incorporates recommendations made by officers in the field and standards of the National Highway Safety Bureau.

Thursday, June 25, at 10 a. m., city police department, Houghton.

The new form, which is being implemented July 1 in the Upper Peninsula and statewide by about the first of the year, was first field tested by police agencies in the Ingham county and Jackson post areas. Following that, it was put into use by all police agencies in the counties of Kent, Genesee and Kalamazoo.

The revised report is a one-page record designed to simplify and expedite the investigating and reporting of traffic accidents. It has provision for a supplement where in-depth analysis of special types of accidents is wanted.

The new form is the first major revision in 12 years. Under study a year and a half, it incorporates recommendations made by officers in the field and standards of the National Highway Safety Bureau.

Name Recipients Of Scholarships To Bay College

Bay de Noc Community College announced today the names of 41 college-bound students who graduated from high school this year as recipients of scholarships to the College for the 1970-71 academic year.

Dr. Richard Rinehart, president, said that two valedictorians and two salutatorians from Delta County high schools are among the scholars recognized by the College Scholarship Committee this year. The valedictorians are Steve Kleiman of Escanaba and Beverly Trudell of Perkins; and salutatorians are Susan Labre of Gladstone and Christine Nault of Bark River. Scholarship recognition was awarded to students in 13 communities in Delta, Menominee and Schoolcraft counties.

To be considered for a scholarship, Bay students have to complete all admission requirements including the American College Test. Selection for scholarship was made by a committee of Delta County citizens on the basis of demonstrated academic ability in high school, a measured potential for college level achievement, citizenship, leadership and service as indicated by participation in school, church and community activities.

When all other factors were considered, the element of need for financial assistance to assure the most discerning students of a college opportunity was given adequate consideration and priority. The process of selection began in April 1970.

Students selected for scholarships by town or community include the following:

Cornell—Dale Ford; Gladstone — Susan Labre, Paula Treichel, Julie Williams, Christine Lancour, Patrick Cole and Mary Goudreau; Manistique—Mary Lequia; Garden—Dick Lester; Powers—Brian Behrend; Bark River — Norman Dittrich and Christine Nault.

Escanaba — Patricia Casey, Patricia Chaudoir, William Dubord, Judith Engstrom, Stephen Kleiman, Lori Koster, Gregory Gerou, Alan Larson, Mary Jean Mayville, and Judith Reiffers; Perkins—Beverly Trudell; Harris—Alex Jorasz.

Alternates designated for college scholarships as they may become available include: Escanaba—Dave Flannery, Diane Propst and Linda Way; Gladstone — Rodney Deiter, Nancy Gillis, Christine Ott and Richard Salo.

Placing The Blame

Where does the blame for Legislative inaction on a school aid bill for 1970-71 rest?

A number of newspapers in the state, including the Daily Press and the Lansing State Journal, have suggested that it rests with the Legislature, pointing out that discussions on school aid started last fall and have continued without a decision through most of the spring. The lack of action has created difficulties for local school districts where administrations and school boards are unable to make accurate projections on revenue which will be available in the fall to run local schools.

Rep. George F. Montgomery (D-Detroit), majority floor leader and a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, has another idea. He puts it this way:

The editorial from the Lansing State Journal "would seem to indicate that the Legislature has failed to pursue this objective (enactment of a state aid bill) with due diligence," Montgomery says. "This is not the case . . .

"Many organizations and other elements of the public school lobby have advocated that the Legislature adopt NO BILL rather than approve any bill which includes a provision for aid to non-public schools. This is an inflexible but nonetheless philosophical position — although it seems hardly practical under the circumstances. Nevertheless, the Legislature, and particularly the Senate, by its inaction, has adopted this course of action. In short, the Legislature has done exactly that which has been requested of it — nothing. If the public school administrators, school boards, teachers' organizations, and other elements of the public school lobby now find that legislative implementation of their recommended program results in unbearable consequences, it would seem most advisable that they take overt and concerted action forthwith to revise their public position and advise the Legislature of the action they now desire while time still exists for the Legislature to act."

Montgomery says that inaction by the Legislature will result in lower levels of state aid to local schools. Under the "No Bill" situation (and he uses average valuation and per pupil increases and applies them evenly throughout the state, factors which could change the state aid even more) Montgomery says Escanaba Area public schools will receive $11.69 per pupil less. Figuring about 4,600 pupils in the district, such a reduction would mean $53,774 less revenue.

He cites the following per pupil reduction for other school districts in the area: Gladstone $11.53; Brampton Township $13.48; Baldwin Township $15.09; Rapid River $10.64; Big Bay de Noc $11.04; Bark River Harris $9.70; Flat Rock $11.67; Rock $17.49; Manistique Area $11.18.

Montgomery, on the basis of his report, apparently is concerned about the financial troubles that could result for public schools by legislative inaction. Yet, if there is concern, there is inconsistency when he urges the "public school lobby" to move to overcome the position of inaction taken by the Legislature. Urging the "public school lobby" to take some action conveniently shifts the burden off the Legislature's shoulders, but Rep. Montgomery forgets that it is not the "public school lobby" that is allowed to vote in the chambers of the House of Representatives and the Senate.

The people of Michigan elected 110 representatives and 38 senators for that job. And if failure to pass a school aid bill results in serious problems for local schools this fall, blame must go to the Legislature where it belongs.

Dad Can't Read, Either

An adult education authority at Harvard University, using information he collected plus two national surveys, contends more than half of the adult population above the age of 25 "may be functionally illiterate."

Writing in Harvard Educational Review, David Harmon says the commonly accepted Census Bureau definition of functional illiteracy is inadequate. The bureau says only 8.3 per cent are incapable of reading and puts the literacy level at about the fifth grade.

Harmon points out that many common publications, such as newspapers, driving manuals and job application, require 11th grade reading ability. Harmon is saying, in effect, that a person who can read comic books does not necessarily have the ability to read much of the material which he should be able to comprehend.

(Interestingly, he points out, the 11th grade reading level is inadequate for understanding income tax forms. The fact is, not even the people who put the tax forms together can always explain them, and many are college graduates.)

A free society requires an intelligent and well-informed electorate, which necessitates more than soaking up the six o'clock news on television. It means reading, too, and Harmon says half of adult America can't even read this newspaper.

Harmon's findings were studied by the U. S. Office of Education prior to publication. The USOE adult education director said: "We found no fault with it." Which means the department endorses his suggestion that the level of functional literacy should be raised so that people deemed literate are able to read material necessary "to function in our society."

Harmon's contention, apparently well documented with facts, that half of all Americans of voting age can't read is a serious indictment of American education .

It seems that after 50 years of trying to teach people to read by the look-say method, people can't say what they are looking at on the page. Perhaps the country should go back to the one-room school house with McGuffey's Reader and start all over again.

Expressing his "viewpoint," Mr. McGoff, the president of Panax Corp., took MSU President Wharton to task for daring to devote his commencement address at Johns Hopkins University to U. S. foreign policy. (Daily Press, June 3). According to Mr. McGoff, Dr. Wharton's qualifications as a foreign policy expert are "slim."

It is obvious that Mr. McGoff has not done his homework. Since it was Johns Hopkins which asked Dr. Wharton to speak on foreign affairs, it semingly was satisfied with his qualifications. As the son of an outstanding career diplomat, Dr. Wharton was weaned on diplomacy and international relations.

Moreover, in his own right Dr. Wharton is a recognized specialist in U. S. foreign policy matters and foreign economic development, particularly in regard to Southeast Asia. His services have been utilized by both the Johnson and Nixon Administrations, he has served on advisory committees to the State Department and the Agency for International Development, and he has been a consultant to the United Nations and several Southeast Asian governments. From 1958 to 1964, he was stationed in Malaysia, where he was responsible for the Agricultural Development Council's programs in Vietnam, Thailand, Cambodia, and Malaysia. This, of course, was the very area Dr. Wharton discussed in his Johns Hopkins speech.

It would appear difficult to find someone with more qualifications than Dr. Wharton to discuss U. S. policy in regard to agrarian reform in Southeast Asia, but perhaps Mr. McGoff is just a hard man to satisfy. In any event, it seems obvious that Dr. Wharton's expertise in Southeast Asian maters exceeds Mr. McGoff's knowledge of university administration.

SMOKE

It is comical to see a newspaper photo of a coal-fired steamship emitting a trail of black and sooty smoke as it cruises along at about 10 miles per hour on one of the rivers of the Great Lakes area.

To top it off, the accompanying caption states that the pictured ship has just been cited and fined for excessive smoking on the Chicago River.

It would be difficult to say just how many excessive smokers are still left among the 180 (approximately) bulk cargo ships on the Great Lakes. An oil fired ship also smokes. This gassy emission is far more hazardous to health than is coal smoke. Or could I be wrong?

There is no question but what a lot of excessive smoking can be eliminated. To expect a steamship fireman to always have the smoke under control borders on the ridiculous.

Until all ships are equipped with chemical sewage disposal units they will be veritable floating outhouses. Some have garbage disposal facilities, but these aren't always used.

Perhaps we will have atomic fueled lakers in time. But smoke can be expected in the inland seas for a long, long time yet—and dust, too.

UNITY NEEDED

Mrs. Ray Gardapee's letter to the Daily Press (June 9) was extremely well written and completely objective. He described briefly accomplishments attributed to Mr. Jerome Albright (Superintendent of Schools at Powers-Spalding before consolidation with Hermansville). This is most commendable. They are brothers-in-law.

Granted, there have been improvements in the school system and curriculum. This is the duty of an administrator and he would be remiss in his duties if he did not work toward these goals.

Let us give credit where credit is due, but let us not deal in half truths. The present day phrase is "tell it like it is."

This area had an unfortunate incident that did cost approximately $20,000. The people recognized their obligation and the school board, not the superintendent, proposed passage of five mills to pay for the error and this was supported by the citizens of the area at the polls.

We enjoy a lighted field and bleachers. Without the funds provided by the Lions Club these would not have become available. To be completely honest, Mr. Albright, is a member of the Lions Club but the projects were mainly one of community activity and development. The glass backboards in the school gymnasium were donated by the Lions Club and there is a plaque in the school stating this fact.

The band director is doing an excellent job on a part time basis. He spends the other half of his time at Bark River-Harris where Mr. Gardapee teaches. Perhaps, Mr. Gardapee has been too busy to notice this fact.

We have enjoyed a foreign student exchange program and summer school program under the administration of Mr. Albright and at the same time we lost accreditation. Accreditation has been lost by other schools and has been regained. We have yet to enjoy this.

We do have portable class rooms as temporary facilities to handle increased student enrollment and the people of this school district will in the future construct permanent facilities as they are required.

A word on scholarships, virtually unknown or the best at the absolute minimum under the present school administration. It may be wise to access the comparative administrative abilities and accomplishments of Mr. Clifford Luft in his capabilities as superintendent at Hermansville. They are a smaller school. In his short association at Hermansville he has demonstrated a leadership ability and the record of scholarships for students through the efforts of Mr. Luft is without equal. This fact may also be varified while he was the principal at Carney-Nadeau High School. There has been a most harmonious relationship in the Hermansville School system between the board, superintendent and faculty. We have not enjoyed this situation in Powers-Spalding for a number of years.

We have had the situation develop under the administration of Mr. Albright where the teaching staff was increased to provide assistance in athletics and counseling. We have enjoyed a good athletic record and whole heartedly support the staff in its efforts. The effectiveness of counseling and guidance of graduating students is one of the most important factors in furthering education and developing future citizens. It would be wise to closely review the very admirable record of Mr. Luft and his staff in this area.

Very little has been said about the students from Hermansville. They are now to come into a system which has been extremely controversial. The students will get along and they are the basis for our foundation of the future. I agree with Mr. Gardapee that unity is required. Unity is not brought about by telling half truths so it will fit the condition most convenient to your thinking.

Members of the interim board are comprised of respected citizens with a sense of civic duty from our respective towns, Powers-Spalding and Hermansville. This Board of Education has unquestionably reviewed the relative qualifications of the gentlemen involved for the superintendent position, Jerome Albright and Clifford Luft. Their decision was to offer the position of superintendent to Mr. Luft, and if unity is to be worked for and achieved why don't we unite behind the decision of the school board and give them our full support to build this new school district into one that we may all be proud of. The time has long since past for us to set aside our petty jealousies and personal likes or dislikes and let the administration of the school district in the hands of a competent board .

Asks Pollutors Be Punished

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., says the Justice Department should prosecute polluters no matter how much money they spend to clean up their own mess.

Reuss, chairman of a House Conservation and Natural Resources subcommittee, in a letter to Atty. Gen. Gen. John N. Mitchell on May 13 expressed concern about an apparent "executive branch policy to limit enforcement" of an 1899 law known as the Refuse Act.

Shiro Kashiwa, an assistant attorney general had written Reuss that it would not be in the government's interest to bring an action against a company which admittedly is discharging refuse into navigable waters, but which, pursuant to a program by the Federal Water Qaulity Administration, is spending significant amounts of money to secure the abatement of that pollution.

The 1899 law provides for a fine of $500 to $2,500 on industrial polluters discharging refuse into the nation's waters without a permit from the Army Engineers.

"The law," Reuss said, doesn't exempt polluters who spend money to clean up their mess. These polluters should have been doing so long ago and not have waited until the pressure of public concern for our environment forces them to abate their pollution."

The Refuse Act, Reuss said, specifically requires U.S. attorneys to vigorously prosecute all polluters who discharge such refuse into a waterway without a permit from the Army Engineers.

Reuss said the Justice Dpeartment should obey the law.

All 18 toll stations on Kentucky's 430-mile system of turnpikes now are equipped with emergency first aid vehicles. The state also is giving first aid training to 360 toll road employes.

BIDDING QUIZ

You are South, both sides vulnerable. The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
1 ♦	Dble	1 ♥	?

What would you bid now with each of the following five hands?

1. ♠A62 ♥KQ83 ♦7 ♣K8752
2. ♠J863 ♥A7 ♦J5 ♣AQ943
3. ♠J4 ♥K96 ♦QJ82 ♣Q962
4. ♠QJ9742 ♥AJ4 ♦7 ♣Q83
5. ♠Q6 ♥K8 ♦Q972 ♣KQ875

1. Double. Something is rotten in the state of Denmark. When you have 12 high-card points and everyone at the table bids before you've even opened wour mouth, it's time to suspect chicanery of some sort. The easiest way of telling partner you have a good hand —including good hearts—is by a double. This is a business double, its chief purpose being to warn partner that East may not have the heart suit he is announcing by his bid.

The bidding will almost surely not die at one heart doubled but, whatever happens next, you should here and now firmly resolve to keep going until your side has either reached game or is assured of a satisfactory penalty. You must have full faith in partner in situations of this sort—unless past experience has shown that your partner has a dash of larceny in his heart, in which case you'll have to do a lot of soul-searching and high-class detective work to figure out who, at the table, is telling the truth.

2. Two hearts. Here the bidding is probably all on the level, with East having a weak hand and long hearts. Again you should feel sure of a game, and the best way of indicating this is by a cuebid in hearts. Your final resting place will depend on partner's response to the cuebid. If by any chance your partner passes two hearts, get yourself a new partner.

3. One notrump. You can't really pass with 9 high-card points. Because of your flat distribution and strength in the adverse suits, you make the bid that comes closst to representing the real nature of your hand, namely, one notrump.

4. Four spades. Here you should bid what you think you can make opposite a takeout double, to wit, game in spades. Simplest is best.

5. Two notrump. Partner probably has the all-around values that you need to fortify your own scattered strength. A nine-trick notrump game is likely to prove far easier to manage than an eleven-trick minor suit game. You have the requisite values for a jump to three clubs, but this would be a misguided effort because you would not be suggesting the strong feling you should have about making game in notrump.

Son Fined, Given Probation After Killing Father

PONTIAC (AP)—The shooting of his father last November is going to cost Kenneth Kowalski, 33, son of the owner of the Kowalski Sausage Co., $1,500 in court expenses and two years of probation.

Oakland County Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem said the younger Kowalski had no previous record and was under stress when he shot his 59-year-old father, Stephen, at the older Kowalski's home. The charge against Kenneth Kowalski was attempted felonious assault.

A policeman with the Beverly Hills Police Department said Kowalski and his son have had a "long time family feud."

Friend's Flea Party Proves One Big Itch

Dear Ann Landers: Several months ago I visited an out-of-town friend who entertained me royally. She gave a big party and several of us ended up sleeping on the floor. That night I picked up fleas. This is no joke. I have tried several "home remedies" including kerosene, DDT and flea powder but nothing works.

The horrible part is that the fleas are not visible and I can't prove I have them. I've gone to two doctors and they both insist I do not have fleas. They say my skin is irritated from scratching. The implication that I am imagining things makes me furious. One doctor gave me a prescription for the itch which I threw out. Why treat the itch when the problem is fleas?

I'm going out of my mind trying not to scratch in company and I am becoming increasingly nervous. Can you suggest something? — Nightmare

Dear Mare: Fleas are visible. If you have them the doctors would be able to see them. My flea-bite expert in Washington, D. C., says it would be virtually impossible for a flea to survive on a person who washes regularly—to say nothing of using DDT or kerosene. Whatever bit you that night died a long time ago. Go back to your friendly dermatologist and stop arguing with him. Let him treat the itch (which was caused by scratching) and be thankful you have nothing worse.

* * *

Dear Ann Landers: When will you stop kidding your readers and tell them that the basic human problems are insoluable? At best, one can only learn to live with them.

Consider my own case. I am a reasonably intelligent research scientist (Ph D.) who, unfortunately, married a woman who barely made it out of high school. I've worked hard to achieve something. She has piddled away her time and is content to be nothing more than a housekeeper. There is no meaningful communication between us emotionally, intellectually or even socially.

After three major illnesses (emotionally created) and finally major surgery to correct internal bleeding, I have had it. She refuses to let me go, however, saying, "Whomever God has joined together, let no man put asunder."

Don't tell me to consult a marriage counselor, psychiatrist or minister. I have already done so. The marriage counselor told my wife she has lost her identity. (She poohpoohs the idea.) The psychiatrist advised me to get a divorce. The minister said he couldn't see me because he had to go to the funeral of a friend.

I'm sure you can do nothing for me but it might be amusing to see you try. I repeat, "Basic human problems are insoluable."—Ph. D. SOS

Dear Ph. D.: Some basic human problems are insoluable, but your problem is neither basic nor is it insoluable.

The statement, "She refuses to let me go," is the clue. Perhaps she can make it difficult for you to get a divorce, but she cannot force you to live with her. A man who has had three emotionally created illnesses and an ulcer operation and remains under the same roof with a woman he feels is the cause for his illness needs to examine his need for punishment. She could not have done all this without your cooperation.

I hope you have found something more than amusement in my answer. It provides you with a solution to your "insoluable" problem — if you really want one, that is.

It would appear difficult to find someone with more qualifications than Dr. Wharton to discuss U. S. policy in regard to agrarian reform in Southeast Asia, but perhaps Mr. McGoff is just a hard man to satisfy. In any event, it seems obvious that Dr. Wharton's expertise in Southeast Asian maters exceeds Mr. McGoff's knowledge of university administration.

SMOKE

It is comical to see a newspaper photo of a coal-fired steamship emitting a trail of black and sooty smoke as it cruises along at about 10 miles per hour on one of the rivers of the Great Lakes area.

To top it off, the accompanying caption states that the pictured ship has just been cited and fined for excessive smoking on the Chicago River.

It would be difficult to say just how many excessive smokers are still left among the 180 (approximately) bulk cargo ships on the Great Lakes. An oil fired ship also smokes. This gassy emission is far more hazardous to health than is coal smoke. Or could I be wrong?

There is no question but what a lot of excessive smoking can be eliminated. To expect a steamship fireman to always have the smoke under control borders on the ridiculous.

Until all ships are equipped with chemical sewage disposal units they will be veritable floating outhouses. Some have garbage disposal facilities, but these aren't always used.

Perhaps we will have atomic fueled lakers in time. But smoke can be expected in the inland seas for a long, long time yet—and dust, too.

UNITY NEEDED

Mrs. Ray Gardapee's letter to the Daily Press (June 9) was extremely well written and completely objective. He described briefly accomplishments attributed to Mr. Jerome Albright (Superintendent of Schools at Powers-Spalding before consolidation with Hermansville). This is most commendable. They are brothers-in-law.

Granted, there have been improvements in the school system and curriculum. This is the duty of an administrator and he would be remiss in his duties if he did not work toward these goals.

Let us give credit where credit is due, but let us not deal in half truths. The present day phrase is "tell it like it is."

This area had an unfortunate incident that did cost approximately $20,000. The people recognized their obligation and the school board, not the superintendent, proposed passage of five mills to pay for the error and this was supported by the citizens of the area at the polls.

We enjoy a lighted field and bleachers. Without the funds provided by the Lions Club these would not have become available. To be completely honest, Mr. Albright, is a member of the Lions Club but the projects were mainly one of community activity and development. The glass backboards in the school gymnasium were donated by the Lions Club and there is a plaque in the school stating this fact.

The band director is doing an excellent job on a part time basis. He spends the other half of his time at Bark River-Harris where Mr. Gardapee teaches. Perhaps, Mr. Gardapee has been too busy to notice this fact.

We have enjoyed a foreign student exchange program and summer school program under the administration of Mr. Albright and at the same time we lost accreditation. Accreditation has been lost by other schools and has been regained. We have yet to enjoy this.

We do have portable class rooms as temporary facilities to handle increased student enrollment and the people of this school district will in the future construct permanent facilities as they are required.

A word on scholarships, virtually unknown or the best at the absolute minimum under the present school administration. It may be wise to access the comparative administrative abilities and accomplishments of Mr. Clifford Luft in his capabilities as superintendent at Hermansville. They are a smaller school. In his short association at Hermansville he has demonstrated a leadership ability and the record of scholarships for students through the efforts of Mr. Luft is without equal. This fact may also be varified while he was the principal at Carney-Nadeau High School. There has been a most harmonious relationship in the Hermansville School system between the board, superintendent and faculty. We have not enjoyed this situation in Powers-Spalding for a number of years.

We have had the situation develop under the administration of Mr. Albright where the teaching staff was increased to provide assistance in athletics and counseling. We have enjoyed a good athletic record and whole heartedly support the staff in its efforts. The effectiveness of counseling and guidance of graduating students is one of the most important factors in furthering education and developing future citizens. It would be wise to closely review the very admirable record of Mr. Luft and his staff in this area.

Very little has been said about the students from Hermansville. They are now to come into a system which has been extremely controversial. The students will get along and they are the basis for our foundation of the future. I agree with Mr. Gardapee that unity is required. Unity is not brought about by telling half truths so it will fit the condition most convenient to your thinking.

Members of the interim board are comprised of respected citizens with a sense of civic duty from our respective towns, Powers-Spalding and Hermansville. This Board of Education has unquestionably reviewed the relative qualifications of the gentlemen involved for the superintendent position, Jerome Albright and Clifford Luft. Their decision was to offer the position of superintendent to Mr. Luft, and if unity is to be worked for and achieved why don't we unite behind the decision of the school board and give them our full support to build this new school district into one that we may all be proud of. The time has long since past for us to set aside our petty jealousies and personal likes or dislikes and let the administration of the school district in the hands of a competent board .

Asks Pollutors Be Punished

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., says the Justice Department should prosecute polluters no matter how much money they spend to clean up their own mess.

Reuss, chairman of a House Conservation and Natural Resources subcommittee, in a letter to Atty. Gen. Gen. John N. Mitchell on May 13 expressed concern about an apparent "executive branch policy to limit enforcement" of an 1899 law known as the Refuse Act.

Shiro Kashiwa, an assistant attorney general had written Reuss that it would not be in the government's interest to bring an action against a company which admittedly is discharging refuse into navigable waters, but which, pursuant to a program by the Federal Water Qaulity Administration, is spending significant amounts of money to secure the abatement of that pollution.

The 1899 law provides for a fine of $500 to $2,500 on industrial polluters discharging refuse into the nation's waters without a permit from the Army Engineers.

"The law," Reuss said, doesn't exempt polluters who spend money to clean up their mess. These polluters should have been doing so long ago and not have waited until the pressure of public concern for our environment forces them to abate their pollution."

The Refuse Act, Reuss said, specifically requires U.S. attorneys to vigorously prosecute all polluters who discharge such refuse into a waterway without a permit from the Army Engineers.

Reuss said the Justice Dpeartment should obey the law.

All 18 toll stations on Kentucky's 430-mile system of turnpikes now are equipped with emergency first aid vehicles. The state also is giving first aid training to 360 toll road employes.

BIDDING QUIZ

You are South, both sides vulnerable. The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
1 ♦	Dble	1 ♥	?

What would you bid now with each of the following five hands?

1. ♠A62 ♥KQ83 ♦7 ♣K8752
2. ♠J863 ♥A7 ♦J5 ♣AQ943
3. ♠J4 ♥K96 ♦QJ82 ♣Q962
4. ♠QJ9742 ♥AJ4 ♦7 ♣Q83
5. ♠Q6 ♥K8 ♦Q972 ♣KQ875

1. Double. Something is rotten in the state of Denmark. When you have 12 high-card points and everyone at the table bids before you've even opened wour mouth, it's time to suspect chicanery of some sort. The easiest way of telling partner you have a good hand —including good hearts—is by a double. This is a business double, its chief purpose being to warn partner that East may not have the heart suit he is announcing by his bid.

The bidding will almost surely not die at one heart doubled but, whatever happens next, you should here and now firmly resolve to keep going until your side has either reached game or is assured of a satisfactory penalty. You must have full faith in partner in situations of this sort—unless past experience has shown that your partner has a dash of larceny in his heart, in which case you'll have to do a lot of soul-searching and high-class detective work to figure out who, at the table, is telling the truth.

2. Two hearts. Here the bidding is probably all on the level, with East having a weak hand and long hearts. Again you should feel sure of a game, and the best way of indicating this is by a cuebid in hearts. Your final resting place will depend on partner's response to the cuebid. If by any chance your partner passes two hearts, get yourself a new partner.

3. One notrump. You can't really pass with 9 high-card points. Because of your flat distribution and strength in the adverse suits, you make the bid that comes closst to representing the real nature of your hand, namely, one notrump.

4. Four spades. Here you should bid what you think you can make opposite a takeout double, to wit, game in spades. Simplest is best.

5. Two notrump. Partner probably has the all-around values that you need to fortify your own scattered strength. A nine-trick notrump game is likely to prove far easier to manage than an eleven-trick minor suit game. You have the requisite values for a jump to three clubs, but this would be a misguided effort because you would not be suggesting the strong feling you should have about making game in notrump.

Son Fined, Given Probation After Killing Father

PONTIAC (AP)—The shooting of his father last November is going to cost Kenneth Kowalski, 33, son of the owner of the Kowalski Sausage Co., $1,500 in court expenses and two years of probation.

Oakland County Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem said the younger Kowalski had no previous record and was under stress when he shot his 59-year-old father, Stephen, at the older Kowalski's home. The charge against Kenneth Kowalski was attempted felonious assault.

A policeman with the Beverly Hills Police Department said Kowalski and his son have had a "long time family feud."

Friend's Flea Party Proves One Big Itch

Dear Ann Landers: Several months ago I visited an out-of-town friend who entertained me royally. She gave a big party and several of us ended up sleeping on the floor. That night I picked up fleas. This is no joke. I have tried several "home remedies" including kerosene, DDT and flea powder but nothing works.

The horrible part is that the fleas are not visible and I can't prove I have them. I've gone to two doctors and they both insist I do not have fleas. They say my skin is irritated from scratching. The implication that I am imagining things makes me furious. One doctor gave me a prescription for the itch which I threw out. Why treat the itch when the problem is fleas?

I'm going out of my mind trying not to scratch in company and I am becoming increasingly nervous. Can you suggest something? — Nightmare

Dear Mare: Fleas are visible. If you have them the doctors would be able to see them. My flea-bite expert in Washington, D. C., says it would be virtually impossible for a flea to survive on a person who washes regularly—to say nothing of using DDT or kerosene. Whatever bit you that night died a long time ago. Go back to your friendly dermatologist and stop arguing with him. Let him treat the itch (which was caused by scratching) and be thankful you have nothing worse.

Dear Ann Landers: When will you stop kidding your readers and tell them that the basic human problems are insoluable? At best, one can only learn to live with them.

Consider my own case. I am a reasonably intelligent research scientist (Ph D.) who, unfortunately, married a woman who barely made it out of high school. I've worked hard to achieve something. She has piddled away her time and is content to be nothing more than a housekeeper. There is no meaningful communication between us emotionally, intellectually or even socially.

After three major illnesses (emotionally created) and finally major surgery to correct internal bleeding, I have had it. She refuses to let me go, however, saying, "Whomever God has joined together, let no man put asunder."

Don't tell me to consult a marriage counselor, psychiatrist or minister. I have already done so. The marriage counselor told my wife she has lost her identity. (She poohpoohs the idea.) The psychiatrist advised me to get a divorce. The minister said he couldn't see me because he had to go to the funeral of a friend.

I'm sure you can do nothing for me but it might be amusing to see you try. I repeat, "Basic human problems are insoluable."—Ph. D. SOS

Dear Ph. D.: Some basic human problems are insoluable, but your problem is neither basic nor is it insoluable.

The statement, "She refuses to let me go," is the clue. Perhaps she can make it difficult for you to get a divorce, but she cannot force you to live with her. A man who has had three emotionally created illnesses and an ulcer operation and remains under the same roof with a woman he feels is the cause for his illness needs to examine his need for punishment. She could not have done all this without your cooperation.

I hope you have found something more than amusement in my answer. It provides you with a solution to your "insoluable" problem — if you really want one, that is.

CLEAN-CUT appearance of this three-bedroom contemporary ranch is enhanced by large amount of stone across the front. Metal gates at center are nestled under covered portico and lead to atrim court, at the right side of which is the entrance door.

FLOOR PLANS: Family room in left rear corner of the floor layout is well located for frequent use, since it can be entered from the kitchen, a side entrance or the garage and has sliding glass doors to the rear patio.

S-48 STATISTICS

Design S-48 has a living room, dining room, kitchen-dinette, family room, three bedrooms and two bathrooms, totaling 1745 square feet. There is an antrium court, 20' by 15' 8"; a one-car garage plus a storage alcove; and a laundry-mud room. The over-all dimensions of 50' 4" by 46' include both the garage and the atrium court.

Special Plans Important On Modest Lot

By ANDY LANG

How to achieve maximum livability on a modest lot is becoming more and more of a problem for today's prospective new home owner. Spiraling land and construction costs have spurred the need for ideas to meet the problem.

The atrium concept of this three-bedroom ranch is one solution which combines economy with utility and esthetics. The atrium is an outdoor enclosed courtyard that provides sunshine to adjacent rooms and serves as a desirable private outdoor relaxation area.

In this case, atrium court is in the front center, giving it an additional value as a delightful entrance to the home. Metal gates enclose the court from the street, in front of which there is a covered portico. The door of the atrium is purely up to the home owner. It could be developed as a formally planted court, a Parisien-style outdoor "care," an internal Japanese garden, a Spanish "villa" entrance complete with a fountain, a modern paved court with small planting sections or almost anything else the owner wishes.

The actual front door of the house itself is 20' inside the courtyard. It is flanked by a large sidelight and leads to a spacious reception foyer. There are two closets off the foyer. Straight ahead is an L-shaped living room and dining room arrangement, both with large windows overlooking the rear patio and garden.

A sizable eat-in kitchen is off to the left of the foyer. Its dinette area features a large window wall and door overlooking and connecting to the atrium, making the court an ideal setting for the serving of refreshments and snacks.

An indoor breakfast bar separates the kitchen from the adjoining family room. The latter includes a corner-style, wood-burning stone fireplace, visible from the kitchen, and sliding glass doors leading to the rear patio. Next to the family room is the laundry-mud room, the side service door, a service closet and the inside entrance to the one-car garage.

The bedroom wing at the right side of the house has three bedrooms, two bathrooms and excellent closet space. The master bedroom has three closets, a separate bathroom and a dressing alcove. Each child's bedroom is nicely proportioned and includes an average of 7' of closet. All three bedrooms have cross-ventilation.

Off the garage is a large alcove, which is adjacent to the atrium court, thereby providing additional space for storage and especially for outdoor storage.

All in all, the home puts a lot together; a great deal of practical livability, with an exciting atrium court in a modest-sized home on a modest-sized lot.

with electric air conditioning!

Summertime is to be enjoyed. But without electric air conditioning it's sometimes pretty hard to enjoy life in the heat and humidity.

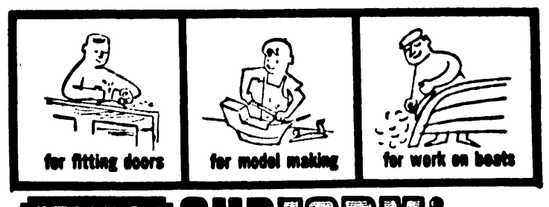

A window air conditioner—or a whole-house central air conditioning system can make a world of difference. Air conditioning is easy to install and economical to operate as it circulates clean, cool dehumidified air.

Sometimes enjoying life is just getting away from distracting noises. Electric air conditioning provides quieter, easier living because the windows are kept closed, thus eliminating outside noise.

Have an electric air conditioner installed and enjoy life this summer.

Schools To Use $67,432 In U.S. Education Funds

The Escanaba Area Public Schools will spend $67,432 in federal funds this summer to help 300 children become better readers, and to help 60 other children to prepare for kindergarten in the fall.

The District also will receive $11,000 for a year-round program in reading for children of junior high age.

Both public and parochial school students benefit from the federally-funded program with 256 public school children and 100 parochial children registered for classes this summer. No breaddown is available for the 60 children in the pre-school readiness program as they all will enter public school kindergarten in the fall.

Three Programs

The Escanaba Area Schools operate three programs with funds provided under Title I of the Elementary-Secondary Education Act—a kindergarten and reading readiness program, a language arts development program, and a year-round junior high reading program.

The kindergarten and reading readiness program, operating for the third year in the district, is under the direction of Ken Mylyla. For six weeks during the summer, 60 boys and girls make field trips for background experience, are helped to be ready for kindergarten in the fall, and introduced to a reading readiness program. This program is held at Washington School and employs four teachers, eight teacher-aides, two cooks, one nurse, and one custodian.

Total cost of the program is $13,905. The Delta-Menominee Health Department cooperates in health needs.

The Language Art Development program, under the direction of Louis Diedrich, serves 300 children, 216 public school and 84 parochial. Operating at the Lemmer and Webster schools for six weeks, five hours a day, this program stresses reading from grades one through five. Twenty-five teachers, two speech-therapists, six teacher aides, one nurse and two custodians are employed. This program costs $47,526 which is covered by federal funds.

Has 56 Students

Arts, with emphasis on reading is provided throughout the school year for 40 public school and 16 parochial school children. Classes meet daily with eight students per section. The $11,000 in federal funds pays for the entire cost of this program, including teachers salaries and supplies.

Health and dental care needs of children in all three programs also are taken care of with federal funds.

The State Department of Education administers the Title I program funds, which are designed for children who need special help. These programs are intended to offer preventive as well as remedial instruction, and hopefully, to develop and evaluate new methods of teaching and learning, school officials said.

To qualify for funds, a school district must show needs (as reading needs in Escanaba shown by a teacher survey), and write a teaching program that must be approved by the State Department of Education. Federal funds are to be used with emphasis first for preschool children, second for early elementary, and third for junior and senior high school students.

Truck Strike End Doubtful

CHICAGO (AP) — Negotiators in the prolonged Chicago area trucking strike - lockout have agreed to submit the carriers' latest offer to union members for a vote, but union leaders are recommending it be rejected.

The offer, announced Thursday, calls for a $1.65 hourly wage increase over 45 months.

While officials of 11 Teamsters locals and the Independent Chicago Truck Drivers Union agreed to allow drivers, dockmen and office workers to vote on the offer, leaders of key locals said members should hold out for the same hourly increase over a 36-month period instead of 45.

Chicago drivers, who negotiate separately from the national Teamsters Union, currently earn up to $4.15 an hour.

Approval of the industry offer would end a strike-lockout that began April 10 and idled some 40,000 drivers and other union members in the Chicago area and caused an estimated loss of $1 billion to the city's economy.

Delta Residents Get $457,000 In Benefits

Social security benefits paid to residents of Delta County totaled $457,000 a month as 1969 ended, Arnold T. Williams, social security district manager in Escanaba reported today.

A benefit increase, signed into law by President Nixon on Dec. 30, 1969, has since raised the monthly rate of payment by 15 per cent for the 5,532 social security beneficiaries in the county, Williams noted.

Of the social security beneficiaries living in this county, 3,611 are retired workers and their dependents. Another 1,277 are receiving benefits as the survivors of workers who have died and 527 are getting benefits as disabled workers or the dependents of disabled workers.

Williams pointed out that although the majority of social security beneficiaries are older people, about one out of every four is under age 60.

Student Benefits

In Michigan, 223,203 people under age 60 are collecting social security payments each month. The 125,844 who are under 18 are receiving payments because a working father or mother has died or is getting social security disability or retirement benefits.

Of the 19,704 who are 18 through 21 years of age, most are getting students' benefits under a provision which permits the continuation of a child's benefits past his or her 18th birthday, and up to age 22 if he or she is attending school full time.

But in this 18 to 22 age group, Williams said, are some other types of beneficiaries, illustrating the broad family protection that is provided working people of all ages under the social security program.

Disabled Aided

A number are the children of retired, disabled, or deceased workers who became disabled before they reached 18 and who will probably never be able to work and become self-supporting. The benefits of these young people, severely handicapped by physical or mental disabilities, will continue indefinitely and benefits are also payable to their mothers if the disabled son or daughter is in the mother's care.

Another small but significant group of youthful social security beneficiaries are those who are receiving social security benefits as disabled workers. Under a 1967 change in the law, disability benefits can be paid to a person who becomes disabled for work even if he has less than five years of work under social security. As little as a year and a half is required in the case of a worker who becomes disabled before age 24.

'Kill Cong' Badges Awarded To GIs

DETROIT (AP) — Specially designed "Kill Cong" badges were awarded by a U.S. Army battalion to soldiers who could prove they killed a Viet Cong last year, according to statements by returned servicemen.

"One way to prove your claim to a badge was to bring back an enemy ear," said former Sgt. Frank Shepard, 23, of suburban Plymouth.

"It (the badges) turned my stomach," he said. "It was like we were on a hunting trip or something."

Badges Awarded In 1969

The badge was awarded by the 5th Battalion, 60th Infantry, 9th Infantry Division while it was stationed at Rach Kien, South Vietnam, during the summer of 1969, according to Shepard.

He said the order which created the badges was signed June 28, 1969, by Capt. Philip F. Kearns, who was infantry adjutant for the battalion.

Kearns, who now teaches in the ROTC program at LaSalle College in Philadelphia, declined comment when contacted by newsmen.

Shepard, who served as battalion clerk, said the badges were made for the battalion by South Vietnamese laundry workers and were usually presented at company formations.

"One way to prove your claim to a badge," said Shepard, "was to bring back an enemy ear. They kept a string of ears at headquarters, which I saw. The ears were rotting and they smelled pretty bad. Finally I asked if we could throw them out." Shepard said he was told to mind his own business.

Olive Green Background

The badges had an olive-green background with the words Sat Cong (Kill Cong) lettered on it in black, he said.

Pete Magee, who now works in Grand Rapids, Mich., said he processed most of the requests for Sat Cong badges while he was battalion clerk. He said he "understood" that no paperwork on the Sat Cong badge was ever to be passed on to the higher command.

"For all other awards," said Magee, "you needed a synopsis of the event, eyewitness statements, lots of paperwork. But there was no paperwork on the Sat Cong badge."

Reject Badge Plan

Robert M. Morris, another battalion veteran who now works in a Reno, Nev., grocery, said, "The badges were wrong. You shouldn't get a badge for killing somebody.

"But it's part of the war, that's all. Nobody knows what it's like over there. There's no way to explain it."

In addition to badges, Magee said battalion members who could prove they killed a Viet Cong were rewarded with rest and recreation leaves to Vung Tan, an oceanside rest area.

"All we heard was body count," said Shepard. "It was like an obsession. Every morning they held a formation and wrote the latest body count on a chalk board."

1,000 Men Involved

The battalion was comprised of about 1,000 men, including five rifle companies, and operated about 15 miles south of Saigon. "I processed about 100 badges," said Magee. "I think most of them were the result of night ambushes."

Shepard said he has an order signed by Capt. Kearns and which Shepard said created the badge. It reads:

"1. Any member of this battalion who personally kills a viet Cong will be presented a Sat Cong Badge (Kill Vietcong) for his gallant accomplishment.

"2. Sat Cong badges will only be given to those individuals who accomplish the above-mentioned feat. There will be no honorary presentations.

"3. Furthermore, only personnel who have personally killed a Viet Cong will be authorized to wear a Sat Cong Badge.

"4. Company commanders will draw Sat Cong badges from the executive officer who will maintain over all control."

Not In Violation

An Army spokesman said the badges were not a direct violation of either Army regulations or the rules of international warfare. But the spokesman added, "There is no such (official) badge in the Army and no commander has the authority to create such a badge."

When Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich., inquired about the badges to the Defense Department, the department replied by letter dated Dec. 18, 1969, that "Information received from headquarters, 2nd Field Force, Viet Nam, indicates that the Sat Cong badge was a program recently instituted in the 5th Battalion, 60th Infantry."

The letter, signed by Col. C.T. Benedict, Chief of the Personnel Services Division, said due to the deaths of the battalion commander and brigade commander "additional information concerning the badge and its purpose could not be furnished."

"However," Benedict wrote, "the badges and emblems have been removed from uniforms and action has been taken to prevent any similar occurances in the future."

Television dealers in New Delhi, India complained that their sales have dropped off as much as 100 per cent in some cases after a new government tax raised the price of television sets from $313 to $373 a set.

Delta Residents Get $457,000 In Benefits

Social security benefits paid to residents of Delta County totaled $457,000 a month as 1969 ended, Arnold T. Williams, social security district manager in Escanaba reported today.

A benefit increase, signed into law by President Nixon on Dec. 30, 1969, has since raised the monthly rate of payment by 15 per cent for the 5,532 social security beneficiaries in the county, Williams noted.

Of the social security beneficiaries living in this county, 3,611 are retired workers and their dependents. Another 1,277 are receiving benefits as the survivors of workers who have died and 527 are getting benefits as disabled workers or the dependents of disabled workers.

Williams pointed out that although the majority of social security beneficiaries are older people, about one out of every four is under age 60.

Student Benefits

In Michigan, 223,203 people under age 60 are collecting social security payments each month. The 125,844 who are under 18 are receiving payments because a working father or mother has died or is getting social security disability or retirement benefits.

Of the 19,704 who are 18 through 21 years of age, most are getting students' benefits under a provision which permits the continuation of a child's benefits past his or her 18th birthday, and up to age 22 if he or she is attending school full time.

But in this 18 to 22 age group, Williams said, are some other types of beneficiaries, illustrating the broad family protection that is provided working people of all ages under the social security program.

Disabled Aided

A number are the children of retired, disabled, or deceased workers who became disabled before they reached 18 and who will probably never be able to work and become self-supporting. The benefits of these young people, severely handicapped by physical or mental disabilities, will continue indefinitely and benefits are also payable to their mothers if the disabled son or daughter is in the mother's care.

Another small but significant group of youthful social security beneficiaries are those who are receiving social security benefits as disabled workers. Under a 1967 change in the law, disability benefits can be paid to a person who becomes disabled for work even if he has less than five years of work under social security. As little as a year and a half is required in the case of a worker who becomes disabled before age 24.

'Kill Cong' Badges Awarded To GIs

DETROIT (AP) — Specially designed "Kill Cong" badges were awarded by a U.S. Army battalion to soldiers who could prove they killed a Viet Cong last year, according to statements by returned servicemen.

"One way to prove your claim to a badge was to bring back an enemy ear," said former Sgt. Frank Shepard, 23, of suburban Plymouth.

"It (the badges) turned my stomach," he said. "It was like we were on a hunting trip or something."

Badges Awarded In 1969

The badge was awarded by the 5th Battalion, 60th Infantry, 9th Infantry Division while it was stationed at Rach Kien, South Vietnam, during the summer of 1969, according to Shepard.

He said the order which created the badges was signed June 28, 1969, by Capt. Philip F. Kearns, who was infantry adjutant for the battalion.

Kearns, who now teaches in the ROTC program at LaSalle College in Philadelphia, declined comment when contacted by newsmen.

Shepard, who served as battalion clerk, said the badges were made for the battalion by South Vietnamese laundry workers and were usually presented at company formations.

"One way to prove your claim to a badge," said Shepard, "was to bring back an enemy ear. They kept a string of ears at headquarters, which I saw. The ears were rotting and they smelled pretty bad. Finally I asked if we could throw them out." Shepard said he was told to mind his own business.

Olive Green Background

The badges had an olive-green background with the words Sat Cong (Kill Cong) lettered on it in black, he said.

Pete Magee, who now works in Grand Rapids, Mich., said he processed most of the requests for Sat Cong badges while he was battalion clerk. He said he "understood" that no paperwork on the Sat Cong badge was ever to be passed on to the higher command.

"For all other awards," said Magee, "you needed a synopsis of the event, eyewitness statements, lots of paperwork. But there was no paperwork on the Sat Cong badge."

Reject Badge Plan

Robert M. Morris, another battalion veteran who now works in a Reno, Nev., grocery, said, "The badges were wrong. You shouldn't get a badge for killing somebody.

"But it's part of the war, that's all. Nobody knows what it's like over there. There's no way to explain it."

In addition to badges, Magee said battalion members who could prove they killed a Viet Cong were rewarded with rest and recreation leaves to Vung Tan, an oceanside rest area.

"All we heard was body count," said Shepard. "It was like an obsession. Every morning they held a formation and wrote the latest body count on a chalk board."

1,000 Men Involved

The battalion was comprised of about 1,000 men, including five rifle companies, and operated about 15 miles south of Saigon. "I processed about 100 badges," said Magee. "I think most of them were the result of night ambushes."

Shepard said he has an order signed by Capt. Kearns and which Shepard said created the badge. It reads:

"1. Any member of this battalion who personally kills a viet Cong will be presented a Sat Cong Badge (Kill Vietcong) for his gallant accomplishment.

"2. Sat Cong badges will only be given to those individuals who accomplish the above-mentioned feat. There will be no honorary presentations.

"3. Furthermore, only personnel who have personally killed a Viet Cong will be authorized to wear a Sat Cong Badge.

"4. Company commanders will draw Sat Cong badges from the executive officer who will maintain over all control."

Not In Violation

An Army spokesman said the badges were not a direct violation of either Army regulations or the rules of international warfare. But the spokesman added, "There is no such (official) badge in the Army and no commander has the authority to create such a badge."

When Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich., inquired about the badges to the Defense Department, the department replied by letter dated Dec. 18, 1969, that "Information received from headquarters, 2nd Field Force, Viet Nam, indicates that the Sat Cong badge was a program recently instituted in the 5th Battalion, 60th Infantry."

The letter, signed by Col. C.T. Benedict, Chief of the Personnel Services Division, said due to the deaths of the battalion commander and brigade commander "additional information concerning the badge and its purpose could not be furnished."

"However," Benedict wrote, "the badges and emblems have been removed from uniforms and action has been taken to prevent any similar occurances in the future."

Orioles Romp To 9-1 Victory

By The Associated Press

Boog Powell, Frank Robinson, Dave Johnson and Merv Rettenmund all slugged homers and Mike Cuellar hurled a sparkling two - hitter for his seventh win this season as Baltimore romped over the California Angels 9-1.

But none of the acknowledged hero's in the Orioles win could have been any happier than singles hitters Andy Etchebarren and Mark Belanger. Etchebarren ripped an eighth inning run-producing single to raise his average to .194 and Belanger ended a string of 33 hitless trips to the plate with a second inning single off the gloves of pitcher Rudy May and second baseman Sandy Alomar.

In the only other scheduled American League games, Detroit topped Milwaukee 6-2 and Cleveland nipped Oakland 6-5 in 10 innings. The Washington at Kansas City contest was called by rain.

The Orioles' four homers included a three-run shot by Johnson and the 17th of the year for Powell which gives him the AL home run lead. Cuellar, 7-4, issued a first inning double to Jarvis Tatum and a single by Sandy Alomar in the third.

Chuck Hinton clubbed a two - run pinch homer in the ninth to tie the score and rookie Roy Foster slammed another two-run blow to give the Indians their victory. Jack Heideman and Eddie Leon also crashed homers for Cleveland. Felipe Alou and Joe Rudi drilled solo blows for the A's.

"It was the biggest thrill I've ever had in baseball," said Foster. I've hit home runs before but this one won a ball game.

Michigan State gymnasts won two championships in the 1970 National AAU meet. Charles Morse, soph from Livonia, was first on side horse, and graduate student Toby Towson topped the floor exercise field.

Northrup's Grand Slam Tops Hapless Brewers

DETROIT (AP)—Loading the bases against Jim Northrup is like waving a scarlet cape in front of a snorting bull.

The challenge seems to trigger a special impulse in the gray matter of the "Grey Fox" and pitchers might as well start heading for the showers.

Northrup cracked the eighth grand slam homer of his career, second best in the American League, as he turned a 2-2 tie into a 6-2 Detroit Tiger victory over Milwaukee with two out in the eighth inning Thursday night.

3 Game Sweep

The win gave the Tigers a sweep of a three game series over the Brewers, who have lost 17 consecutive road games. Detroit opens a three-game home stand against California tonight with possibly Mickey Lolich, 6-6, or John Hiller, 3-2, pitching against the Angels' Andy Messersmith, 5-5.

"Some people call it luck and others call it talent,'" Northrup laughed heartily, as he headed for a mirror in the dressing room to comb his graying black hair.

"It's a challenge to hit with men on and I've always liked that," he stressed. "I hit better with men on and always have."

The 30-year-old outfielder hit four regular season grand slammers in 1968 when Detroit won the pennant, then tagged one of Larry Jaster of St. Louis in one World Series game. He didn't hit any last season and it looked like the knack had faded.

His blast was the second grand slam for the Tigers in three games. Willie Horton hit one Tuesday night, plus two other homers against the Brewers.

O'Donoghue Victim

Reliever John O'Donoghue was Northrup's victim. Gene Brabender, who had pitched a three - hitter going into the eighth, loaded the bases with a pair of walks and a single. Reliever Dave Baldwin struck out Horton and O'Donoghue came in to pitch to Northup with two out.

The slender, lefthanded hitter tagged a 3-1 fast ball off the southpaw and it bounced off the upper deck facing in right field. It was Northrup's heads - up baserunning in the seventh, together with Brabender's wild pickoff attempt at second base, that gave Detroit a 2-2 tie going into the eighth.

Northrup walked, took second on a bunt, and scored as Brabender, now 2-8, threw wild into center field.

On Again, Off Again

Actually, Northrup did a little of everything—and not all good. In second inning he lost Mike Hegan's fly ball in the lights and stood bewildered in center field while rightfielder Al Kaline made a hard running catch. But in the top of the eighth Northrup took a home run away from Ted Savage by making a one-handed grab of his fly ball 430 feet in deepest center next to the flag pole.

"The grand slam meant much," he smiled, "but I like to make good defensive plays too. When I came up to the majors (1965) everyone said I was a bad outfielder but since then I think I've shown them I'm not."

Elliott Maddox drove in the Tigers' first run with a single in the third.

Niekro Wins

Joe Niekro, 6-5, scattered seven hits, three in the fifth when the Brewers scored twice on Hegan's single, a triple by Ted Kubiak and Phil Rofo's single.

Detroit reliever Tom Timmerman got the final two outs of the game after a Milwaukee threat, picking up his second straight save since being recalled from the Toledo Mud Hens of the International League.

The victory pushed the Tigers a half game ahead of idle Boston into third place in the AL East, but they still trail first-place Baltimore by nine games.

Reid Has Mystery Grip On 1st Place In Western Open

CHICAGO (AP) — Steve Reid, a six-year circuit player with only one major victory, had a "mystery" grip on first-place as the $130,000 Western Open Golf Tournament entered its second day today.

Reid, 33, fired a paradoxical 30-36—66 round over Beverly Country Club's par 36-35—71 tightly-wooded acres yesterday for a one-stroke lead over a congested flock of eight runnersup deadlocked at 67.

Reid, who has earned only $11,000 this year and scored his only PGA triumph in the 1968 Azalea Open, attributed his five under-par triumph to a change in his club grip and mechanics of his swing before the 1970 tour began.

"I can't explain the grip change I made, but it has changed my game," said Reid. "But it apparently is paying off, even though I was playing so poorly two months ago, I almost switched back to my old style of gripping the club."

Reid didn't say whether his newfound grip applied to his putter.

But it was a devastating touch on the greens that gave Reid his six-under-par 30 first nine after he opened on the flipflop start, with a one-over-oar 36 on Beverly's back nine.

Reid trickled home six birdie putts of 40, 20, 15, 12, 9 and 8 feet, as he sneaked in one stroke ahead of such 67 shooters as Arnie Palmer, Dow Finsterwald, Bob Charles, Johnny Pott, Dick Lotz, Bobby Nichols, Tommy Jacobs and Hugh Royer.

In a 26-player logjam at 72, six strokes off the pace, was pre-tournament favorite Jack Nicklaus, who commented: "On this kind of course, you can open with a 72 and still be a contender.

Nicklaus blamed his one-over-par round on "pulling the wrong clubs out of the bag—I just played 13 of 14 holes the wrong way and didn't putt well at all."

Palmer, again drawing a huge "Arnie's Army" gallery, seemed ready for a strong run at the $26,000 top prize. Rallying from a startling four-putt second green, Palmer wound up with five birdies and an impressive nine one-putt greens with his 34-33 round.

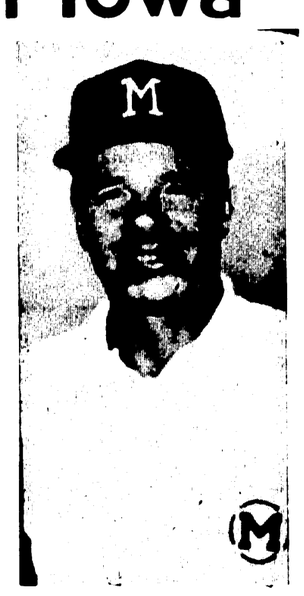

After today's second round, the 50-player field will be cut to the low 70s scorers and ties for the final two rounds.

Elliott Takes Over At Iowa

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — Chalmers B. "Bump" Elliott, named athletic director at the University of Iowa Thursday, has a good head start toward winning the devotion of Hawkeye football fans—who are both legion and vociferous.

Elliott, 45, became popular with many fans during five years (1952-56) as an assistant Iowa football coach under Forest Evashevski, the man he will replace as athletic director and who recommended him for the job.

"My wife and I have reflected many times on our fine years at Iowa City," Elliott told a news conference after his appointment was approved by the State Board of Regents Thursday. "I'm deeply honored to return to Iowa as athletic director."

Chalmers (Bump) Elliott

Elliot left Iowa in 1958 to return to his alma mater, the University of Michigan, as a backfield coach. He was promoted to head coach in 1958 with the retirement of Bennie Osterban.

He coached the Wolverines to a nine-year record of 51-42-3, including Big Ten and Rose Bowl championships in 1964, before taking over as Michigan associate athletic director in 1968.

Elliott steps into a tight situation at Iowa. Evashevski's resignation last month was the culmination of a feud with head football coach Ray Nagel, who was relieved of his duties the day Evashevski resigned only to be reinstated four days later.

But Elliott expressed optimism about the future Thursday.

"If we are all trying to win at Iowa then we have to work together," said the man Evashevski had recommended as being the one to unify the athletic program again. "I think this can be done and will be done."

Recreation Leagues Registration Slated

Registration for Recreation League Baseball and Softball will begin at the Catherine Bonifas Civic Center on Monday, June 15 at 10 a. m. Signing up of players will continue through the week from Monday to Friday from 10 in the morning until noon and from 1:30 to 4 in the afternoon.

Each year the Recreation League registers about 200 boys who do not belong to an organized baseball group in the city. The leagues are intended to serve boys who are anxious to play baseball or softball but are not members of a Little League or Babe Ruth League team. The program operates informally and uniforms are not provided. The only criterion is a desire to play ball.

The program provides wholesome recreation under competent supervision and the youngsters acquire game skills by instruction in baseball fundamentals. The boys are taught to throw, hit, field, slide, and run bases. They are also given an opportunity to play several positions and are guided in choosing a position suitable to their abilities. Sportsmanship is emphasized and every precaution is taken to prevent accidents and injuries.

Boys 7 to 10 years of age are placed in the Beginners League and boys 10 to 13 are enrolled in the Junior Division. Ten-year-olds may play in the Beginners League if their size and ability indicate that they belong to that group. The Cadet League is for boys 14 to 17 years of age. Both hardball and softball will be offered to the Junior and Cadet leaguers but activity in the Beginners League will be confined to hardball.

One or two games will be played each week at Royce Park with beginners playing in the morning and the older boys playing in the afternoon. Once each week games will be scheduled at the Webster playground and the new Jefferson School. If a game conflicts with swimming lessons, the recreation department recommends that the youngsters attend swimming class.

Boys will be excused from games and practice sessions when these activities conflict with Bible Camp, Boy Scout Camp, Band Camp, summer school, swimming classes or family vacations.

Teams will be organized on a school basis during the week of June 15 and official league play will begin on June 22. No tryouts are necessary and all registered boys will be placed on a team and given a chance to play in every game.

Boys are asked to pay a $1 fee when they register in order to be eligible for the annual picnic at Ludington Park on Aug. 6.

The recreation department furnishes all necessary equipment except gloves. Boys' gloves should be plainly marked with the owner's name. The week's schedule will be reported on Radio Stations WDBC and WLST and will appear in the Saturday edition of the Escanaba Daily Press.

'Exploratory' Fishing Trip Begins Today

The fifth annual "Exploratory Fishing Trip" got underway today as more than 100 sports fishermen, writers, conservationists and sporting goods representatives arrived for four days of fishing off Seul Choix Point.

The anglers will be after lake and brown trout and possibly northern pike, rainbows, brook trout and whitefish. They are headquartered at the Manistique Motel-Fireside Inn.

A dinner at 7 o'clock tonight at the Fireside will be the first formal get-together of the visitors. A 7:30 p.m. cocktail party at the Surf Saturday, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, will allow chamber members to meet the sportsmen. The party is open to all Chamber of Commerce members and they are urged to attend.

The fishing trip is to promote the "exceptional, unfound sport fishery along the northern shores of Lake Michigan," Stan Lievense, director of the program said. In previous years, trips have been made to L'Anse Bay, Black River Harbor, Whitefish Bay and Northport.

Included in this years group will be outdoor editors and writers, leading fishing tackle and sporting goods representatives, boat manufacturers, conservationists and other outdorsmen.

Orioles Romp To 9-1 Victory

By The Associated Press

Boog Powell, Frank Robinson, Dave Johnson and Merv Rettenmund all slugged homers and Mike Cuellar hurled a sparkling two - hitter for his seventh win this season as Baltimore romped over the California Angels 9-1.

But none of the acknowledged hero's in the Orioles win could have been any happier than singles hitters Andy Etchebarren and Mark Belanger. Etchebarren ripped an eighth inning run-producing single to raise his average to .194 and Belanger ended a string of 33 hitless trips to the plate with a second inning single off the gloves of pitcher Rudy May and second baseman Sandy Alomar.

In the only other scheduled American League games, Detroit topped Milwaukee 6-2 and Cleveland nipped Oakland 6-5 in 10 innings. The Washington at Kansas City contest was called by rain.

The Orioles' four homers included a three-run shot by Johnson and the 17th of the year for Powell which gives him the AL home run lead. Cuellar, 7-4, issued a first inning double to Jarvis Tatum and a single by Sandy Alomar in the third.

Chuck Hinton clubbed a two - run pinch homer in the ninth to tie the score and rookie Roy Foster slammed another two-run blow to give the Indians their victory. Jack Heideman and Eddie Leon also crashed homers for Cleveland. Felipe Alou and Joe Rudi drilled solo blows for the A's.

"It was the biggest thrill I've ever had in baseball," said Foster. I've hit home runs before but this one won a ball game.

Michigan State gymnasts won two championships in the 1970 National AAU meet. Charles Morse, soph from Livonia, was first on side horse, and graduate student Toby Towson topped the floor exercise field.

Northrup's Grand Slam Tops Hapless Brewers

DETROIT (AP)—Loading the bases against Jim Northrup is like waving a scarlet cape in front of a snorting bull.

The challenge seems to trigger a special impulse in the gray matter of the "Grey Fox" and pitchers might as well start heading for the showers.

Northrup cracked the eighth grand slam homer of his career, second best in the American League, as he turned a 2-2 tie into a 6-2 Detroit Tiger victory over Milwaukee with two out in the eighth inning Thursday night.

3 Game Sweep

The win gave the Tigers a sweep of a three game series over the Brewers, who have lost 17 consecutive road games. Detroit opens a three-game home stand against California tonight with possibly Mickey Lolich, 6-6, or John Hiller, 3-2, pitching against the Angels' Andy Messersmith, 5-5.

"Some people call it luck and others call it talent,'" Northrup laughed heartily, as he headed for a mirror in the dressing room to comb his graying black hair.

"It's a challenge to hit with men on and I've always liked that," he stressed. "I hit better with men on and always have."

The 30-year-old outfielder hit four regular season grand slammers in 1968 when Detroit won the pennant, then tagged one of Larry Jaster of St. Louis in one World Series game. He didn't hit any last season and it looked like the knack had faded.

His blast was the second grand slam for the Tigers in three games. Willie Horton hit one Tuesday night, plus two other homers against the Brewers.

O'Donoghue Victim

Reliever John O'Donoghue was Northrup's victim. Gene Brabender, who had pitched a three - hitter going into the eighth, loaded the bases with a pair of walks and a single. Reliever Dave Baldwin struck out Horton and O'Donoghue came in to pitch to Northup with two out.

The slender, lefthanded hitter tagged a 3-1 fast ball off the southpaw and it bounced off the upper deck facing in right field. It was Northrup's heads - up baserunning in the seventh, together with Brabender's wild pickoff attempt at second base, that gave Detroit a 2-2 tie going into the eighth.

Northrup walked, took second on a bunt, and scored as Brabender, now 2-8, threw wild into center field.

On Again, Off Again

Actually, Northrup did a little of everything—and not all good. In second inning he lost Mike Hegan's fly ball in the lights and stood bewildered in center field while rightfielder Al Kaline made a hard running catch. But in the top of the eighth Northrup took a home run away from Ted Savage by making a one-handed grab of his fly ball 430 feet in deepest center next to the flag pole.

"The grand slam meant much," he smiled, "but I like to make good defensive plays too. When I came up to the majors (1965) everyone said I was a bad outfielder but since then I think I've shown them I'm not."

Elliott Maddox drove in the Tigers' first run with a single in the third.

Niekro Wins

Joe Niekro, 6-5, scattered seven hits, three in the fifth when the Brewers scored twice on Hegan's single, a triple by Ted Kubiak and Phil Rofo's single.

Detroit reliever Tom Timmerman got the final two outs of the game after a Milwaukee threat, picking up his second straight save since being recalled from the Toledo Mud Hens of the International League.

The victory pushed the Tigers a half game ahead of idle Boston into third place in the AL East, but they still trail first-place Baltimore by nine games.

Reid Has Mystery Grip On 1st Place In Western Open

CHICAGO (AP) — Steve Reid, a six-year circuit player with only one major victory, had a "mystery" grip on first-place as the $130,000 Western Open Golf Tournament entered its second day today.

Reid, 33, fired a paradoxical 30-36—66 round over Beverly Country Club's par 36-35—71 tightly-wooded acres yesterday for a one-stroke lead over a congested flock of eight runnersup deadlocked at 67.

Reid, who has earned only $11,000 this year and scored his only PGA triumph in the 1968 Azalea Open, attributed his five under-par triumph to a change in his club grip and mechanics of his swing before the 1970 tour began.

"I can't explain the grip change I made, but it has changed my game," said Reid. "But it apparently is paying off, even though I was playing so poorly two months ago, I almost switched back to my old style of gripping the club."

Reid didn't say whether his newfound grip applied to his putter.

But it was a devastating touch on the greens that gave Reid his six-under-par 30 first nine after he opened on the flipflop start, with a one-over-oar 36 on Beverly's back nine.

Reid trickled home six birdie putts of 40, 20, 15, 12, 9 and 8 feet, as he sneaked in one stroke ahead of such 67 shooters as Arnie Palmer, Dow Finsterwald, Bob Charles, Johnny Pott, Dick Lotz, Bobby Nichols, Tommy Jacobs and Hugh Royer.

In a 26-player logjam at 72, six strokes off the pace, was pre-tournament favorite Jack Nicklaus, who commented: "On this kind of course, you can open with a 72 and still be a contender.

Nicklaus blamed his one-over-par round on "pulling the wrong clubs out of the bag—I just played 13 of 14 holes the wrong way and didn't putt well at all."

Palmer, again drawing a huge "Arnie's Army" gallery, seemed ready for a strong run at the $26,000 top prize. Rallying from a startling four-putt second green, Palmer wound up with five birdies and an impressive nine one-putt greens with his 34-33 round.

After today's second round, the 50-player field will be cut to the low 70s scorers and ties for the final two rounds.

Elliott Takes Over At Iowa

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — Chalmers B. "Bump" Elliott, named athletic director at the University of Iowa Thursday, has a good head start toward winning the devotion of Hawkeye football fans—who are both legion and vociferous.

Elliott, 45, became popular with many fans during five years (1952-56) as an assistant Iowa football coach under Forest Evashevski, the man he will replace as athletic director and who recommended him for the job.

"My wife and I have reflected many times on our fine years at Iowa City," Elliott told a news conference after his appointment was approved by the State Board of Regents Thursday. "I'm deeply honored to return to Iowa as athletic director."

Chalmers (Bump) Elliott

Elliot left Iowa in 1958 to return to his alma mater, the University of Michigan, as a backfield coach. He was promoted to head coach in 1958 with the retirement of Bennie Osterban.

He coached the Wolverines to a nine-year record of 51-42-3, including Big Ten and Rose Bowl championships in 1964, before taking over as Michigan associate athletic director in 1968.

Elliott steps into a tight situation at Iowa. Evashevski's resigation last month was the culmination of a feud with head football coach Ray Nagel, who was relieved of his duties the day Evashevski resigned only to be reinstated four days later.

But Elliott expressed optimism about the future Thursday.

"If we are all trying to win at Iowa then we have to work together," said the man Evashevski had recommended as being the one to unify the athletic program again. "I think this can be done and will be done."

Recreation Leagues Registration Slated

Registration for Recreation League Baseball and Softball will begin at the Catherine Bonifas Civic Center on Monday, June 15 at 10 a. m. Signing up of players will continue through the week from Monday to Friday from 10 in the morning until noon and from 1:30 to 4 in the afternoon.

Each year the Recreation League registers about 200 boys who do not belong to an organized baseball group in the city. The leagues are intended to serve boys who are anxious to play baseball or softball but are not members of a Little League or Babe Ruth League team. The program operates informally and uniforms are not provided. The only criterion is a desire to play ball.

The program provides wholesome recreation under competent supervision and the youngsters acquire game skills by instruction in baseball fundamentals. The boys are taught to throw, hit, field, slide, and run bases. They are also given an opportunity to play several positions and are guided in choosing a position suitable to their abilities. Sportsmanship is emphasized and every precaution is taken to prevent accidents and injuries.

Boys 7 to 10 years of age are placed in the Beginners League and boys 10 to 13 are enrolled in the Junior Division. Ten-year-olds may play in the Beginners League if their size and ability indicate that they belong to that group. The Cadet League is for boys 14 to 17 years of age. Both hardball and softball will be offered to the Junior and Cadet leaguers but activity in the Beginners League will be confined to hardball.

One or two games will be played each week at Royce Park with beginners playing in the morning and the older boys playing in the afternoon. Once each week games will be scheduled at the Webster playground and the new Jefferson School. If a game conflicts with swimming lessons, the recreation department recommends that the youngsters attend swimming class.

Boys will be excused from games and practice sessions when these activities conflict with Bible Camp, Boy Scout Camp, Band Camp, summer school, swimming classes or family vacations.

Teams will be organized on a school basis during the week of June 15 and official league play will begin on June 22. No tryouts are necessary and all registered boys will be placed on a team and given a chance to play in every game.

Boys are asked to pay a $1 fee when they register in order to be eligible for the annual picnic at Ludington Park on Aug. 6.

The recreation department furnishes all necessary equipment except gloves. Boys' gloves should be plainly marked with the owner's name. The week's schedule will be reported on Radio Stations WDBC and WLST and will appear in the Saturday edition of the Escanaba Daily Press.

Runs, Double Plays, Spark Hand's Victory For Cubs

By The Associated Press

If runs and double plays are a pitcher's best friends, Bill Hands of the Chicago Cubs isn't lacking for companionship this season.

The right-hander, who won 20 games and was one of the few bright spots in the Cubs' stretch collapse last year, got some of each Thursday night in turning back the San Diego Padres 7-1 and boosting his record to 8-4.

The double plays cropped up when Hands needed them most. The Padres had tied the score 1-1 in the last of the first and had the bases loaded, but Hands induced Ivan Murrell to bounce into an inning-ending double play.

A single and a walk had Hands in trouble to start the second, but Jim Hickman started a snappy first-to-third-to-second twin killing on Mike Corkins' bunt and Hands fanned Dave Campbell. Then he settled down.

Elsewhere in the National League, Montreal turned on Cincinnati 8-4, Los Angeles outlasted St. Louis 2-1 in 12 innings and Atlanta defeated Philadelphia 6-4.

Maury Wills opened the Dodgers' 12th with a single, took second on Frank Linzy's wild pitch and scored the winning run on a double by Willie Davis to topple the Cardinals.

Starters Don Sutton of Los Angeles and Steve Carlton of St. Louis battled through 10 innings locked in a 1-1 tie. The Cards scored in the fourth on singles by Richie Allen and Joe Torre and Joe Hague's sacrifice fly and the Dodgers tied it up in their half of the inning on Manny Nota's second homer of the season.

The Expos rocked 11-game winner Jim Merritt for five runs in the first inning and stopped the Reds' latest winning streak at five games, handing the lefthander his fourth setback.

Don Hahn and Rusty Staub started the onslaught with doubles and Adolfo Phillips and Coco Laboy singled before John Bateman unloaded his fourth home run, a three-run shot.

Aided by homers from the bats of Tony Perez, No. 22, and Johnny Bench, No. 19, the Reds chipped away at Carl Morton, 6-3, and got to within 5-4 but Bob Bailey belted a two-run pinch homer in the sixth to put the game out of reach.

Old Hoyt Wilhelm choked a seventh-inning Philadelphia rally with a double play pitch that helped the Braves beat the Phillies.

Wilhelm, who'll be 47 next month, came on with one out, the bases loaded, a 3-0 count on Tony Taylor and the Braves leading 6-1. He completed the walk to Taylor, forcing in one run, and then walked Oscar Gamble, pushing another across. He then went to a 3-2 count on Ron Stone before getting him to hit into a double play.

Rico Carty's triple and the first of Orlando Cepeda's three singles drove in two runs of loser Rick Wise in the third and Cepeda singled home another after Carty bounced into a bases-loaded double play.

River Post moved into first place for the first time this season when they defeated AMVETS and the Independents shocked Lombardi's in Escanaba Slow Pitch action Thursday night.

River Post took a commanding 4-0 lead in the first inning when Jim Sargent blasted a three-run homer after Jim Olsen and Dick Marenger single. The Post added three more runs in the sixth and two in the seventh to snare its third victory against only one defeat for the year.

Phil Hiney picked up the mound verdict while Don Koish took the loss. Marenger led the River Post attack with three hits.

In the shock of the night, Independents, which has change sponsors and will now be known as the Heynssens and Selins team, broke a 4-4 tie in the top of the seventh inning when they scored nine runs to beat Lombardi's for the first time in two years.

In the seventh inning, Dick Stanchina started the ball rolling with a triple, and also hit a double in the inning, while Pat Moran homered to lead the uprising. Don Almenti, the wining pitcher, Jerry Liebel and Stanchina all had four hits in the contest. Joe Hiller took the defeat for Lombardi's.

The Escanaba Merchants moved into a first place tie with Flat Rock Thursday night when they defeated Goebels 10-4 in the only game played in the Escanaba Senior Softball League. The game with Trenary and Michigan Hotel was cancelled until a later date.

Goebels took an early 3-0 lead in the top of the first inning when Dick Johnson singled, Bob Irish doubled and John Way homered.

Goebels added another run in the second and led 4-0 when the Merchants bats began exploding. Don Martineau started off the inning with a double off Ray Payment, Goebels pitcher, followed by a single by Jan Moran, scoring Martineau. Al Erickson and Tony Derkos, the Merchants pitcher, walked and Wally Flath hit a two run single. Bob Corriveau chased Payment from the mound when he lined a two run single to center. Al Almonroeder relieved Payment and retired the side with the Merchants leading 5-4.

The Merchants added another run in the third on a solo homerun by Erickson and rallied for four more runs in the bottom of the fourth to clinch their fifth win of the season against only one defeat. Erickson again had the key hit in the inning when he hit a single with the bases loaded.

Leading the Merchants attack with two hits apiece were Flath, Martineau. Corriveau and Erickson. Bob Irish paced Goebels with two hits while John Way homered. Derkos picked up the mound decision, while Payment took the defeat.

The Escanaba Merchants will travel to Ishpeming Saturday night for a exhibition doubleheader with the Marquette County All-Stars, who defeated the Iron Mountain All-Stars 5-2 and 3-0 last Saturday night.

Lions Top VFW; Snare LL Lead

VFW tucked away the first half championship just in time as they opened the second half of the Escanaba Jaycee Little League race by dropping a pair to the Lions. The Vets pushed Lion ace, Kevin Cutler, to the wall before they dropped the opener 7 to 6, but the Lions proved that they were for real last night when they drove Jeff Abrahamson from the mound in the third with a nine hit attack and eventually won 13 to 2. VFW opened strong with 3 straight hits before Jim Wendleberger settled down and stopped the first half champs on one more hit.

Kiwanis got another strong pitching performance from Mark Beveridge as he followed up last week's no hitter with a 9 to 0 shutout over the Bankers. However, the best pitching effort of the week went to the veteran Mike Smith who threw a no hitter to gain his first win of the season in Rotary's 14 to 0 romp over Credit Union.

Pete Bohn came on strong for the Eagles as they defeated Kiwanis 3 to 1 and handed Ed LeGault his first loss of the season. Jon Sankovich led the Eagles attack with a 2 for 3 effort and tops the league with a .552 record. Teammate Eric Hanson is right behind him with an even .500, while Randy Kleiman of the Bankers and Beveridge of Kiwanis are the league's only other .400 hitters. Cutler tops the pitchers with a 3 and 0 record.

In other Little League news, league officials announced that players would again take part in the annual soap sale which will get underway next Wednesday. They also announced the initiation of a "rookie" league for players who were not regulars in championship play. Games will preceed tournament team practice which is expected to begin the first part of July.

The Racing Stars of Upper Michigan, Milwaukee, Eastern Wisconsin and Canada provided the action in headline competition at the Norway race track last Friday night. Bill Goeden the number one ranked driver in the Milwaukee area, won his second Norway Modified Feature in as many tries and also took time trial honors with a clocking of 19:70 seconds. Bob Iverson of Hyde and Ed Powley of Soo, Canada finished second and third respectively in the Modified Feature.

★ ★ ★

Modified heat winners at the Norway Speedway were Ken Iverson of Hyde in the first heat, Don Benoit of Escanaba the second heat and Bob Iverson of Hyde in the third heat. In the semi-feature, Ken Iverson came in first with Don Benoit second and Ed Provo third to make a 1-2-3 scoring punch for the Escanaba drivers in the feature.

★ ★ ★

Joe Haferkorn raced to his second feature win in the sportsmens division at the Norway Speedway with Larry Duford of Kingsford second. The sportsmen heat winner were Paul Smith of Marquette in the first heat, John O'Polka of Hermansville the second and Pat Temple of Norway in the third heat. In the semi-feature sportsmen honors went to Happy Mott of Norway with John Mattia of Norway second and Dick Paiddl of Menominee third. Ron Paquette of Kingsford won the sportsmen time trials in 21:30 seconds.

★ ★ ★

Dave Boileau of Escanaba, who drives car number 24 in the modified class, has not won a race this season at the Escanaba Speedway, but is in third place in total points. Boileau's success on the track is that he always manages to hang in there to finish with the top drivers. Dave has finished every race that he has participated in this year at the track to keep his point total up.

★ ★ ★

With the fifth week of the 1970 stock car season on tap for Saturday night the race for top point honors still remains close with Bob Iverson leading the Modifieds and Wennel Tourangeau replacing Bill Peterson for the lead in the sportsman class. Runs, Double Plays, Spark Hand's Victory For Cubs

By The Associated Press

If runs and double plays are a pitcher's best friends, Bill Hands of the Chicago Cubs isn't lacking for companionship this season.

The right-hander, who won 20 games and was one of the few bright spots in the Cubs' stretch collapse last year, got some of each Thursday night in turning back the San Diego Padres 7-1 and boosting his record to 8-4.

The double plays cropped up when Hands needed them most. The Padres had tied the score 1-1 in the last of the first and had the bases loaded, but Hands induced Ivan Murrell to bounce into an inning-ending double play.

A single and a walk had Hands in trouble to start the second, but Jim Hickman started a snappy first-to-third-to-second twin killing on Mike Corkins' bunt and Hands fanned Dave Campbell. Then he settled down.

Elsewhere in the National League, Montreal turned on Cincinnati 8-4, Los Angeles outlasted St. Louis 2-1 in 12 innings and Atlanta defeated Philadelphia 6-4.

Maury Wills opened the Dodgers' 12th with a single, took second on Frank Linzy's wild pitch and scored the winning run on a double by Willie Davis to topple the Cardinals.

Starters Don Sutton of Los Angeles and Steve Carlton of St. Louis battled through 10 innings locked in a 1-1 tie. The Cards scored in the fourth on singles by Richie Allen and Joe Torre and Joe Hague's sacrifice fly and the Dodgers tied it up in their half of the inning on Manny Nota's second homer of the season.

The Expos rocked 11-game winner Jim Merritt for five runs in the first inning and stopped the Reds' latest winning streak at five games, handing the lefthander his fourth setback.

Don Hahn and Rusty Staub started the onslaught with doubles and Adolfo Phillips and Coco Laboy singled before John Bateman unloaded his fourth home run, a three-run shot.

Aided by homers from the bats of Tony Perez, No. 22, and Johnny Bench, No. 19, the Reds chipped away at Carl Morton, 6-3, and got to within 5-4 but Bob Bailey belted a two-run pinch homer in the sixth to put the game out of reach.

Old Hoyt Wilhelm choked a seventh-inning Philadelphia rally with a double play pitch that helped the Braves beat the Phillies.

Wilhelm, who'll be 47 next month, came on with one out, the bases loaded, a 3-0 count on Tony Taylor and the Braves leading 6-1. He completed the walk to Taylor, forcing in one run, and then walked Oscar Gamble, pushing another across. He then went to a 3-2 count on Ron Stone before getting him to hit into a double play.

Rico Carty's triple and the first of Orlando Cepeda's three singles drove in two runs of loser Rick Wise in the third and Cepeda singled home another after Carty bounced into a bases-loaded double play.

River Post moved into first place for the first time this season when they defeated AMVETS and the Independents shocked Lombardi's in Escanaba Slow Pitch action Thursday night.

The Escanaba Merchants moved into a first place tie with Flat Rock Thursday night when they defeated Goebels 10-4 in the only game played in the Escanaba Senior Softball League. The game with Trenary and Michigan Hotel was cancelled until a later date.

Goebels took an early 3-0 lead in the top of the first inning when Dick Johnson singled, Bob Irish doubled and John Way homered.

Goebels added another run in the second and led 4-0 when the Merchants bats began exploding. Don Martineau started off the inning with a double off Ray Payment, Goebels pitcher, followed by a single by Jan Moran, scoring Martineau. Al Erickson and Tony Derkos, the Merchants pitcher, walked and Wally Flath hit a two run single. Bob Corriveau chased Payment from the mound when he lined a two run single to center. Al Almonroeder relieved Payment and retired the side with the Merchants leading 5-4.

The Merchants added another run in the third on a solo homerun by Erickson and rallied for four more runs in the bottom of the fourth to clinch their fifth win of the season against only one defeat. Erickson again had the key hit in the inning when he hit a single with the bases loaded.

Leading the Merchants attack with two hits apiece were Flath, Martineau, Corriveau and Erickson. Bob Irish paced Goebels with two hits while John Way homered. Derkos picked up the mound decision, while Payment took the defeat.

The Escanaba Merchants will travel to Ishpeming Saturday night for a exhibition doubleheader with the Marquette County All-Stars, who defeated the Iron Mountain All-Stars 5-2 and 3-0 last Saturday night.

In Memoriam

Meunier

In loving memory of our daughter Lori Meunier, who passed away June 12, 1965.

Sunshine passes, shadows fall,
Love's remembrance outlasts all.
And through the years be many or few,
They are filled with remembrance dear of you.

Sadly Missed by her parents and brothers, Paul, Glen Mark, John

Dugener

In loving memory of John Dugener, who passed away five years ago yesterday, June 11, 1965.

"Gone, but not forgotten."

Sadly Missed by his Wife, Children and Grandchildren

Dahl

In loving memory of our beloved husband, father and grandfather, Adolph Dahl, who passed away two years ago, today, June 12, 1970.

We do not need a special day,
To bring him to our minds.
The days we do not think of him
Are very hard to find.
Within our store of memories,
He holds a place apart
For no one else should ever be
More cherished in our hearts.
The years may wipe out many things,
But this they wipe out never:
The memory of those happy days,
When we were all together.

Sadly Missed by His Wife, Vera and Children

Nashville Singer Due For 'Big Time'

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — Ray Stevens, a quiet and unassuming young man from Nashville, will become the star of his own television series at a time when his record, "Everything is Beautiful," is hitting the top of the best-seller charts.

He will be launched June 20 as Andy Williams' summer replacement on NBC and will appear on eight programs and two repeats called "Andy Williams Presents the Ray Stevens Show??"

The double question marks of the title—"There are supposed to be three," said Ray—are an inside joke. When Williams and associates told NBC executives their summer plans, the first question was, "Who is Ray Stevens?"

"They also brought a sack of mail sent to me," Ray said. "I am told that after Andy and after his bear, I was getting the most mail."

Stevens appeared as a guest on six of Andy's shows during the past season and is so tangled in Williams' business that he almost qualifies as an adopted brother.

Not yet 30, Stevens majored in music at Georgia State and earned part of his keep by playing piano. This expanded into a popular combo and his comedy was sharpened by filling time between the dance numbers.

"I moved to Nashville in 1962," Stevens said, "and was making good money from my own records, arranging for others, producing records and playing piano for other performers."

Two years ago Don Williams, Andy's brother who manages musical talent, went on a scouting trip to Nashville. Don became Ray's manager and a little over a year later Ray was booked on Andy's show. Stevens best-selling records are turned out by Williams' recording company.

The summer series was taped during five hectic weeks in Toronto. Since even Andy's bear is on vacation, Ray has his own company including Mama Cass and the British singer Lulu.

His first hit was "Ahab the Arab," a comedy piece, but Stevens' moods as composer and performer are many. Currently he is concerned with recording a new piece for which he has high hopes.

"Somebody said—and I'd been thinking—that what this country needs is a patriotic song that is hip enough to be accepted by the record buyers and become established as a hit," he said.

"I figure I'm about average in everything from politics to morals, so I've written about patriotism, seen through the eyes of a guy who is neither Jerry Rubin nor George Wallace. I'm just saying let's get together and take the same path down the middle and get the problems solved. I hope it means what 'God Bless America' meant when it came out."

Nashville Singer Due For 'Big Time'

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — Ray Stevens, a quiet and unassuming young man from Nashville, will become the star of his own television series at a time when his record, "Everything is Beautiful," is hitting the top of the best-seller charts.

He will be launched June 20 as Andy Williams' summer replacement on NBC and will appear on eight programs and two repeats called "Andy Williams Presents the Ray Stevens Show??"

The double question marks of the title—"There are supposed to be three," said Ray—are an inside joke. When Williams and associates told NBC executives their summer plans, the first question was, "Who is Ray Stevens?"

"They also brought a sack of mail sent to me," Ray said. "I am told that after Andy and after his bear, I was getting the most mail."

Stevens appeared as a guest on six of Andy's shows during the past season and is so tangled in Williams' business that he almost qualifies as an adopted brother.

Not yet 30, Stevens majored in music at Georgia State and earned part of his keep by playing piano. This expanded into a popular combo and his comedy was sharpened by filling time between the dance numbers.

"I moved to Nashville in 1962," Stevens said, "and was making good money from my own records, arranging for others, producing records and playing piano for other performers."

Two years ago Don Williams, Andy's brother who manages musical talent, went on a scouting trip to Nashville. Don became Ray's manager and a little over a year later Ray was booked on Andy's show. Stevens best-selling records are turned out by Williams' recording company.

The summer series was taped during five hectic weeks in Toronto. Since even Andy's bear is on vacation, Ray has his own company including Mama Cass and the British singer Lulu.

His first hit was "Ahab the Arab," a comedy piece, but Stevens' moods as composer and performer are many. Currently he is concerned with recording a new piece for which he has high hopes.

"Somebody said—and I'd been thinking—that what this country needs is a patriotic song that is hip enough to be accepted by the record buyers and become established as a hit," he said.

"I figure I'm about average in everything from politics to morals, so I've written about patriotism, seen through the eyes of a guy who is neither Jerry Rubin nor George Wallace. I'm just saying let's get together and take the same path down the middle and get the problems solved. I hope it means what 'God Bless America' meant when it came out."

Newspaper Want Ads are a big sell! One billion, twenty-one million was spent on classified ads last year . . . more than for all magazine advertising combined and more than 300 million more than radio advertising.

A new University of Kentucky study says state and local taxes in that state are higher than previous surveys have indicated when weighed fairly in comparison with other states.

More than 40 per cent of the old people in Britain live with one or more of their children, according to a survey published by the Health Department. That compares with 28 per cent in the United States, 20 per cent in Denmark and less than 10 per cent in Sweden.

VC Make Cambodia Land Grab

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — The Cambodian government, faced with sharply mounting pressure from the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese, has decided reluctantly to cede almost half the country to enemy control, well informed diplomatic sources said today.

The disclosure came as military sources reported that enemy troops seized nearly half of the provincial capital of Kompong Speu, 30 miles south of Phnom Penh in heavy fighting.

Refugees from the town, which lies on the only highway open to Cambodia's major port of Kompong Som, formerly Sihanoukville, said the enemy held the central market and virtually all of that part of the town which lies south of a river bisecting it.

Western military experts termed the decision to cede territory to the enemy realistic, and said that even by concentrating its forces around Phnom Penh and northwest of the capital, the government will have only a 50-50 chance of surviving the next four or five months of monsoon rains.

Port Threatened

The threat to the port of Kompong Som, through which all of Phnom Penh's fuel and other vital supplies must pass could have critical consequences.

Enemy troops also made a strong attack 50 miles northeast of Phnom Penh in what could be a prelude to new assaults on the key Mekong River town of Kompong Cham.

Spokesmen said the fighting at Siem Reap, near the Angkor temple ruins, had subsided, but strong enemy forces were still in the area.

Territory Written Off

The diplomats said Premier Lon Nol's government, in assessing its prospects, had written off the extensive eastern territory in which U.S. and South Vietnamese forces have been operating. With its army and strategic reserves already spread dangerously thin, the sources said the government realizes that much of the area east and south of Phnom Penh will revert to Communist control if the U.S. and South Vietnamese leave.

Lose Control Of Area

Already the government has lost control of vast areas in the northeast and the situation there worsens almost daily. But the area around Phnom Penh and the rice belt stretching northwest around the giant Tonle Sap lake will be defended at all costs, diplomatic sources said.

They said this is also true of Battambang and Siem Reap, two provincial capitals west and north of the Tonle Sap. Both cities are military regional headquarters and are astride the only roads to Thailand. These roads may become the government's lifeline to the outside world in the months to come.

Fight Still Rages

Reports from Kompong Speu, indicated the fighting was still going on. A government spokesman said he considered the attack a threat to Phnom Penh, even though the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese have penetrated much closer to the capital in the past.

"The Communists have never given up the idea of attacking Phnom Penh one day," the spokesman said.

58 Amman Hostages Reportedly Released

By The Associated Press

Fifty-eight foreigners held hostage in Amman were reported released today, but Egypt's Middle East News Agency reported that a commando group was holding the widow of an American military attache killed by guerrillas in the Jordanian capital earlier this week.

A guerrilla organization in Beirut announced that the radical Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine this morning released the 58 Americans, Britons and other foreigners it had help captive for more than 36 hours in Amman's two main hotels.

Diplomats in the Lebanese capital confirmed the report, but had no details. Regular communication channels with the Jordanian capital were still cut.

The American woman reported a prisoner of the commandos was the widow of Maj. Robert P. Perry of Chicago, an attache of the U.S. Embassy in Amman who was killed by a group of guerrillas who invaded his residence Wednesday at the height of the fighting between the Palestinians and Jordanian troops.

Earlier reports said Mrs. Perry and two of their three children were present when Perry was killed, but the Egyptian report today made no mention of the children. Nor did it give the circumstances of the reported capture of the woman.

As the Palestine guerrillas refused to be satisfied by concessions from King Hussein of Jordan and made new demands, U.S. officials were preparing to evacuate about 400 Americans living in Jordan.

In Washington, the White House said only "precautionary planning" was being done. But a representative of the International Red Cross arrived in Amman today to arrange the evacuation, and three Lebanese jetliners were standing by in Beirut to fly the evacuees to Athens.

Blame Campfire

SAUGATUCK (AP)—A campfire has been blamed for a blaze which burned nearly one half mile of Lake Michigan's shoreline.

Tornado Hits Arkansas City; 25 Persons Hurt

SPRINGDALE, Ark. (AP) — A tornado hit this mountain town of 16,000 late Thursday night and injured about 25 persons.

Hugh Means, administrator of Springdale Memorial Hospital, said about 25 persons were treated in the hospital's emergency room and about a half dozen of them were hospitalized.

"We believe the area hardest hit has been pretty thoroughly searched and have no reason to believe any more major injuries will come to our attention," Means said.

The injuries included fractured skulls, broken arms, a punctured lung and several cases of shock, he said.

National Guardsmen living in the area were called to duty to assist in searches of damaged houses and buildings.

Telephone service was disrupted. Surrounding communities dispatched ambulances and law enforcement personnel to Springdale, which is about 190 miles northwest of Little Rock.

18-Year-Olds Find Friend In McCormack

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Speaker John W. McCormack, whose 78 years have made him a target of the young, is making his last big legislative fight an attempt to win the vote for 18-year-olds.

The speaker, who is retiring from the House after this session of Congress, is pushing hard for passage of a bill that would extend the Voting Rights Act of 1965 and lower the voting age to 18.

Largely as a result of his efforts, backers of the bill are confident they have the votes to send it to the White House when the House takes it up Wednesday.

McCormack has been calling on members who are undecided or actually in opposition to the bill and asking for their support.

"He puts it right to you," a recipient of one of his calls says. "He says this is going to be his last big vote and he wants you with him. I'm not for the 18-year-old vote, but I'm going to vote with the speaker."

Passage of the bill would also be sweet revenge for the speaker for a painful setback he and the other House leaders suffered last December when the chamber rejected an extension of the Voting Rights Act in favor of a milder, broader administration measure.

The 1965 act zeroes in on the South and has been credited with adding nearly one million blacks to the voter rolls in seven Southern states.

Anti-Cambodia Victory May Be Only Symbolic

WASHINGTON (AP) — Anti-war forces in the Senate have paved the way for expected approval of a proposal to curtail future U.S. actions in Cambodia, but the victory could be more symbolic than substantial because of continued White House and House opposition.

The Senate defeated 52-47 Thursday a key administration-backed amendment by Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., that proponents said would have emasculated the curb on presidential war powers. Both sides said the vote signified passage of the Cooper-Church amendment next week.

Fund Cut Bill Set

With the Byrd vote out of the way, the Senate turned its attention today to an amendment by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., to cut all funds out of the military sales appropriation bill for gifts and credit sales of firearms or military equipment to other nations.

The appropriations measure has been the vehicle for the Cambodia limitation effort sponsored by Sens. Frank Church, D-Idaho, and John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky.

Williams also wanted to remove a section of the bill expressing congressional support for credit sales to Israel. But Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., blocked any quick vote on that.

Opposite Points Of View

Many strong supporters of the Cooper-Church amendment oppose the military sales authority provisions of the bill. Both the House and the Nixon administration have a diametrically opposite point of view.

Thus, the Cooper-Church forces in the Senate hope to use the administration's strong desire for the militry sales authority as a lever on the House when the bill goes to conference, assuming the Senate approves it.

Church hailed Thursday's action as "a proud day for the Senate" and added:

"The vote was historic in the sense it represents the first time the Senate has undertaken to define the outer limits of a theater of war."

Sen. Cooper predicted defeat of other attempts to revise the amendment, expected to be offered next weeek by Byrd, and Sens. William B. Spong Jr., D-Va., and Charles Percy, R-Ill.

S. Vietnamese Casualties High

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese forces have lost more men in the five weeks since the Cambodian offensive began than in any similar period in the Vietnam war, and U.S. battle deaths for the same five weeks are the highest in 10 months.

Weekly casualty figures compiled from May 3 through last Saturday list 3,326 government troopers killed in action and 8,500 wounded in both Cambodia and South Vietnam. U.S. losses in both countries in that time were 811 killed and 4,970 wounded.

The allies claim to have killed 17,952 enemy in that same period—more than 10,000 in Cambodia—but the methods of gathering these figures are often challenged.

The previous record for South Vietnamese battle deaths for any five-week period was during the enemy's nationwide Tet offensive. That was in 1968, and from late January through most of February 3,158 government troops died.

The last time Americans suffered greater battle casualties was in a five-week period was from late last July through August when 854 were killed and 6,029 wounded during an enemy high point.

West Berliner Kidnap Victim

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — The Brazilian government said Thursday night that it would do all it could to obtain the safe release of West German Ambassador Ehrenfried von Holleben, kidnaped by leftist terrorists who killed a Brazilian security guard and wounded two others.

The military government of President Emilio Garrastazu Medici was expected to meet the kidnapers' demand that political prisoners be exchanged for the 61-year-old diplomat. But pamphlets left by the kidnapers did not say what prisoners they wanted or even how many.

Von Holleben was snatched by about eight young people Thursday evening as he was returning home in his chauffeur-driven Mercedes Benz.

As the car rounded a sharp turn two blocks from the ambassador's residence, his youthful abductors shot out a street light, rammed the front of his car with a jeep and machine gunned a station wagon carrying security men behind the Mercedes, witnesses said.

Two young armed men then forced their way into von Holleben's car, gunning to death a Brazilian security agent in the front seat as he reached for his pistol. While others covered the two wounded security men who had been in the station wagon, the ambassador was dragged from his car and driven away in a waiting Chevrolet.

Survey Turns Up Child Addicts

WASHINGTON (AP) — A house-to-house survey of a 40-block area of Harlem turned up 18,000 hard drug addicts including 2,000 children between the ages of seven and 15, Congress has been told.

And 90 per cent of those children lived by themselves.

The result of the survey was supplied to a House Appropriations subcommittee last April by Dr. Stanley F. Yolles, then director of the National Institute of Mental Health.

Dr. Yolles, in the closed-door testimony made public today, said that "In the area of hard narcotics and especially heroin addiction, I believe the committee would be interested to know that a brief survey was done in Harlem, a house-to-house survey of tenants in a 40-block area.

"The results of that survey showed that there were 22,000 adults, some 30,000 children, and some 6,000 individuals who lived in streets and alleys in this 40-block area.

"Of that number, there were 10,000 addicted adults, 6,000 children between the ages of 16 and 21 who were addicted and 2,000 children between the ages of seven and 15 who were addicted.

"Of the 2,000 children, aged seven to 15, 90 per cent lived by themselves without the presence of an adult in their immediate environment. This is what we are dealing with in the United States."

Dr. Yolles, who has since resigned, said it is estimated there now are between 100,000 and 150,000 hard narcotics addicts in the nation.

"I think we are all aware of the epidemic, if you will call it that, of drug abuse and hard narcotics usage in New York City," he said. "We are approaching the rate of three deaths per day from overdose of narcotics in New York City."

"Mostly juveniles?" asked subcommittee chairman Daniel J. Flood, D-Pa.

"Yes sir, a high percentage of them are juveniles," Dr. Yolles replied. In the first third of this year there were 170 deaths from overdoses of narcotics in New York City, he said. "During 1969 there were some 900 deaths, of which 224 were teenagers. That rate is still going up."

17-Year Locusts Leaving Burrows; Damage Feared

By The Associated Press

The so-called 17-year locusts have emerged from their underground burrows in various parts of the nation to drum their familiar mating song through another summer.

A survey showed today the outbreak of the insects, which are actually misnamed periodic cicadas, has primarily occurred in wooded areas of the East and Middle West.

Particularly heavy concentrations were reported only in certain areas of Indiana. Along Fall Creek in northeast Indianapolis the insects were almost as thick as swarming bees and the noise of the incessantly drummed love songs was deafening.

Although the cicadas generally cause little damage to plant life, they have cut through the branches of many maple, mulberry and fruit trees in the Fall Creek area.

The cicadas caused slight damage to fruit trees in northeastern West Virginia.

In Minneapolis, entomologists said the outbreak was not severe and they were not recommending anything for controlling the insects.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pressure and conflict pursue Robert P. Griffin relentlessly.

Even at home his 19-year-old son vigorously opposes the Vietnam war while a 17-year-old collects pictures of Barry Goldwater.

The assistant Republican leader of the U.S. Senate can dismiss this quirk with a philosophical wave of the hand. But it is symbolic of other pressures, mounting daily, that keep him awake nights between 16 to 20-hour working days.

Hasn't Caught On

Prolonged Senate debate on the invasion of Cambodia has thrust Griffin back onto the national stage where, despite dramatic success in championing controversial issue, he has never quite caught on.

But Griffin's increasing defense of the administration is causing worry among some friends and supporters. They feel he has taken a turn to the right that could harm him politically in Washington and in his labor-dominated home state of Michigan where faint rumblings can be heard.

Others—not quite so friendly—feel the Republican whip is too ambitious.

Wants Scott's Job?

They accuse him—anonymously—of trying to shoulder aside GOP Leader Hugh Scott, a 69-year-old Pennsylvanian trying to preserve the necessary liberal credentials for re-election this year.

Griffin denies both charges.

"I don't look at things in terms of right or left," says the 46-year-old small town lawyer in the slow, cautious tones that are the hallmark of his public image. "In close situations, I believe in giving my president the benefit of the doubt."

With a resigned sigh, Griffin also denies the widespread but only whispered accusations that he is after Scott's job.

"Really," he says, "the best thing that could happen to me would be for Hugh to shore up his position so there just isn't any doubt he'll be re-elected. Life would be much simpler."

Murmurs Noted

Nevertheless, the murmurings behind his back—which Griffin acknowledges are the price of leadership—go on. They add to the pressures that friend and enemy agree make his present situation the roughest in the Senate.

Those pressures began almost the instant Griffin was elected whip. A compromise choice, the election was accomplished with the help of a dozen or so liberal-moderates who, with some justification, consider themselves the Senate's real Republican power brokers.

Fortas Case Recalled

Only a few months earlier Abe Fortas had resigned from the Supreme Court following conflict of interest charges. The move appeared to vindicate Griffin's lonely battle of a year earlier to block Fortas' nomination as chief justice.

The liberal-moderates were elated when Griffin, shortly after becoming whip, broke with the White House on the high court nomination of Clement F. Haynsworth Jr.

His decision was a crucial factor in Haynsworth's defeat.

A 10-year congressman from a conservative Michigan district before going to the Senate in 1966, Grifin further endeared himself to the liberal-moderates by siding with them in fights over minority hiring and voting rights proposals.

Then came the Supreme Court nomination of G. Harrold Carswell.

Scott Campaigns

Scott was away campaigning much of the time in a state where the Carswell nomination was not popular anyway. Griffin felt it his duty to fill the leadership void. But he confided to friends that he was not happy with the nomination. And he managed to convey an air of reluctance.

It was the U.S. attack into Cambodia that brought his troubles bubbling near the surface.

"It was several weeks ago we began to get the impression he was setting himself up as the man the White House talks to in the Senate," says one of the liberal-moderates.

"He was running with Dole and that crowd," says this man, referring to Republican Robert J. Dole of Kansas, one of the Senate's most outspoken conservatives. "We told him very clearly he has no future here or in Michigan with that bunch."

Agrees With Nixon

"Basically, I agree with the President on the Cambodian decision," Griffin says. "It was within his constitutional powers and I believe history will prove him right."

His chunky frame relaxing in dark blue suit, Griffin commented as his limousine speeds him to the airport from a losing floor fight in support of the President. His eyes behind plastic-rimmed glasses are thoughtful, his roundish, unlined face serious.

He was headed for yet another of the interminable fund raising dinners where he would say, as he has at similar functions for weeks, "We must be proud of the President for a courageous decision."

But behind him in the Capitol the debates continue—on the floor its Cambodia, in the corridors its Robert Paul Griffin.

Low Enlistments Could Hurt Draft

WASHINGTON (AP) — An unexpected drop in Army enlistments last month could herald trouble for Pentagon hopes of cutting the draft to as low as 150,000 men this year.

The Army said enlistments in May totaled 7,629—nearly 3,500 below the month's objective.

Officials were unable to explain the drop, except to note a sharp upturn in antiwar demonstration during May as a result of the U.S. drive into Cambodia.

Defense officials indicated they will pay close attention to the trend in enlistments this month and next—when the end of school traditionally brings more volunteers—in hopes the situation rights itself.

Any deficit in enlistments is made up by increasing draft calls in future months.

The Pentagon Thursday announced a July draft call of 15,000 young men for the Army.

Sources said this call would have been lower were it not for the unanticipated fall off in last month's enlistments.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird has said draft inductions this year hopefully will fall as low as 150,000 men, compared with nearly double that, 290,000, in 1969.

Defense authorities are now saying the 1970 draft total probably will not drop that low and the Pentagon has started hedging somewhat on Laird's forecast, using an expected range of between 150,000 and 180,000.

If the enlistment situation gets back on the predicted track, draft calls could go down significantly in the last five months of 1970.

Quotas already announced for the first seven months of the year total 114,500. This leaves a balance of less than 36,000 to reach the 150,000 mark and nearly 66,000 if total inductions for the year climb to 180,000.

This would work out to monthly draft quotas as low as 7,000 plus from August through December—unless voluntary enlistments fail to recover their momentum.

Luft Turns Down Position As Head Of New District

HERMANSVILLE — Lester Johnson, president of the Interim Board of Education of the newly consolidated Hermansville - Powers - Spalding School Districts, said today that Clifford Luft, who was selected as superintendent of the new district, has not accepted the position offered him by the board.

Luft was elected by a 4-3 vote of the Interim Board at a meeting held on Thursday, June 4, but since then much controversy has resulted.

"The basic reason I have not accepted the position," said Luft this morning, "is that with all the controversy that has resulted, it would be best to step out at this time and allow the board to reconsider its selection.

"It is best to get a newly reorganzed district off to a good start and it will be difficult to get a good start with all this controversy."

Luft also said that he has made no plans for the future.

The Interim Board is scheduled to meet at 7:30 p. m. Monday, June 15, at the Powers School.

At a meeting Wednesday of the Committee to Save Our Consolidated Schools—a group supporting Jerome Albright of Powers as the new superintendent—Edward Faccio of Hermansville said harrassing telephone calls had ben made to both Luft and his wife.

Faccio said the calls were not obscene or threatening, but persistent and demanding.

A member of the committee said a basic plank in the committee's platform was that nothing of an anonymous or secretive nature be used, but that an appeal be made to the reason of the public.

Inez McChalk of Hermansville a Powers teacher, said that she and Mike Forsberg, Powers coach, visited Luft to show him the petition the committee was circulating and to assure him that the committee and Powers teachers weren't anti-Luft.

The petition reads:

"We, the undersigned, of the 4th Class School District No. 6, Menominee County, State of Michigan, feel that Jerome K. Albright is best qualified to be appointed as superintendent of the above-named district. We also support the appointment of Clifford Luft to another administrative position within this district. This action is taken to promote harmony and best serve the interest of our newly-consolidated district. We request that the Interim Board rescind their previous appointment in favor of our above recommendations. We also agree that this petition, in its entirety, will be publically displayed."

Election Reform Bill Passage Foreseen

LANSING (AP) —An election reform bill, aimed at consolidating voters' trips to polls across the state, has been turned into a vehicle that some Detroit-area lawmakers hope to use to unravel the tangled problem of decentralizing that city's giant school district.

The Senate Thursday moved the election bill, calling for odd-year elections of many judges and city officials, into position for a final vote.

As approved by the House, the bill slated odd-year elections for all judicial officers, other than justices of the supreme court and judges of the appeals court, if a constitutional amendment authorizing such elections were adopted.

The measure further stipulated odd-year elections for city officers and members of boards of education of most school districts, intermediate school districts and boards of trustees of community colleges.

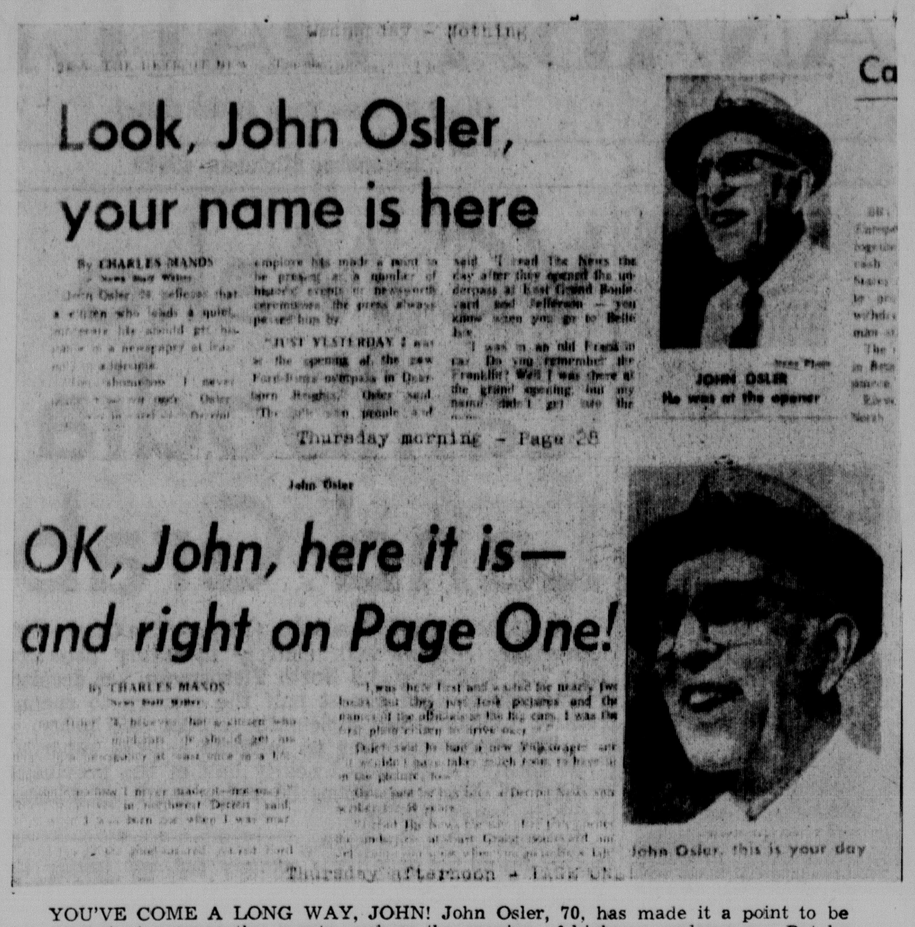

Municipal officials now are elected in April, school officials in June and judges in November of even-numbered years.

As amended in preliminary Senate action Thursday, however, the measure would not apply to any school district but Detroit. A long hassle over a Detroit decentralization law remains in limbo in the legislature.

Under the senate amendment, sponsored by Sen. George Kuhn, R-Birmingham, election of regional school boards --mandated in the law being questioned by some conservative Detroit lawmakers and voters - would be postponed from this fall to next year, an odd-numbered election yar.

Sen. Raymond Dzendzle, D-Detroit, said enactment of the amendment in the election bill would "stay off decentralization for one more year and give us time to continue negotiations" on the question.

The law at issue is one passed last year that requires decentralization of the 300,000 - pupil district into 7-11 regions. Each region would have a separate board, with one main board at the top of the pyramid.

YOU'VE COME A LONG WAY, JOHN! John Osler, 70, has made it a point to be present at newsworthy events, such as the opening of highway underpasses. But he never got mentioned in the press. He complained of the lack of coverage to the Detroit News. He made page 28 of an early edition and page one later. (AP Wirephoto)

Accident Report Forms Of Police To Be Changed

The Michigan State Police will instruct all Upper Peninsula law enforcement department representatives in the use of the revised state traffic accident reporting form during a series of five training sessions June 22-25, Col. Fredrick E. Davids, department director, announces.

Locations and starting times for the two-hour sessions are:

Monday, June 22, at 1 p. m., State Police, Sault Ste. Marie.

Tuesday, June 23, at 10 a. m., State Police, Marquette; at 2 p. m., State Building conference room, Escanaba.

Wednesday, June 24, at 10 a. m., State Police, Iron River.

Thursday, June 25, at 10 a. m., city police department, Houghton.

The new form, which is being implemented July 1 in the Upper Peninsula and statewide by about the first of the year, was first field tested by police agencies in the Ingham county and Jackson post areas. Following that, it was put into use by all police agencies in the counties of Kent, Genesee and Kalamazoo.

The revised report is a one-page record designed to simplify and expedite the investigating and reporting of traffic accidents. It has provision for a supplement where in-depth analysis of special types of accidents is wanted.

The new form is the first major revision in 12 years. Under study a year and a half, it incorporates recommendations made by officers in the field and standards of the National Highway Safety Bureau.

Name Recipients Of Scholarships To Bay College

Bay de Noc Community College announced today the names of 41 college-bound students who graduated from high school this year as recipients of scholarships to the College for the 1970-71 academic year.

Dr. Richard Rinehart, president, said that two valedictorians and two salutatorians from Delta County high schools are among the scholars recognized by the College Scholarship Committee this year. The valedictorians are Steve Kleiman of Escanaba and Beverly Trudell of Perkins; and salutatorians are Susan Labre of Gladstone and Christine Nault of Bark River. Scholarship recognition was awarded to students in 13 communities in Delta, Menominee and Schoolcraft counties.

To be considered for a scholarship, Bay students have to complete all admission requirements including the American College Test. Selection for scholarship was made by a committee of Delta County citizens on the basis of demonstrated academic ability in high school, a measured potential for college level achievement, citizenship, leadership and service as indicated by participation in school, church and community activities.

When all other factors were considered, the element of need for financial assistance to assure the most discerning students of a college opportunity was given adequate consideration and priority. The process of selection began in April 1970.

Students selected for scholarships by town or community include the following:

Cornell—Dale Ford; Gladstone — Susan Labre, Paula Treichel, Julie Williams, Christine Lancour, Patrick Cole and Mary Goudreau; Manistique—Mary Lequia; Garden—Dick Lester; Powers—Brian Behrend; Bark River — Norman Dittrich and Christine Nault.

Escanaba — Patricia Casey, Patricia Chaudoir, William Dubord, Judith Engstrom, Stephen Kleiman, Lori Koster, Gregory Gerou, Alan Larson, Mary Jean Mayville, and Judith Reiffers; Perkins—Beverly Trudell; Harris—Alex Jorasz.

Alternates designated for college scholarships as they may become available include: Escanaba—D a v e Flannery, Diane Propst and Linda Way; Gladstone — Rodney Deiter, Nancy Gillis, Christine Ott and Richard Salo.

City Employes Approve 2-Year Pact With City

City Manager George Harvey today advised the City Council that the Escanaba Employes' Association has ratified a two-year work contract with the City of Escanaba.

In effect the contract provides for a 7 per cent increase in wages effective July 1, 1970, and a 7 per cent increase effective July 1, 1971.

"Fringe benefits remain the same during the first year; however, the benefits may be reopened prior to the second year to discuss fringe benefits only," said Harvey.

The agreement is substantially the same as that between the Teamsters Union (representing police officers) and the city.

Contracts have not yet been arrived at between the city and and firemen and the city and the electricians.

Placing The Blame

Where does the blame for Legislative inaction on a school aid bill for 1970-71 rest?

A number of newspapers in the state, including the Daily Press and the Lansing State Journal, have suggested that it rests with the Legislature, pointing out that discussions on school aid started last fall and have continued without a decision through most of the spring. The lack of action has created difficulties for local school districts where administrations and school boards are unable to make accurate projections on revenue which will be available in the fall to run local schools.

Rep. George F. Montgomery (D-Detroit), majority floor leader and a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, has another idea. He puts it this way:

The editorial from the Lansing State Journal "would seem to indicate that the Legislature has failed to pursue this objective (enactment of a state aid bill) with due diligence," Montgomery says. "This is not the case . . .

"Many organizations and other elements of the public school lobby have advocated that the Legislature adopt NO BILL rather than approve any bill which includes a provision for aid to non-public schools. This is an inflexible but nonetheless philosophical position — although it seems hardly practical under the circumstances. Nevertheless, the Legislature, and particularly the Senate, by its inaction, has adopted this course of action. In short, the Legislature has done exactly that which has been requested of it — nothing. If the public school administrators, school boards, teachers' organizations, and other elements of the public school lobby now find that legislative implementation of their recommended program results in unbearable consequences, it would seem most advisable that they take overt and concerted action forthwith to revise their public position and advise the Legislature of the action they now desire while time still exists for the Legislature to act."

Montgomery says that inaction by the Legislature will result in lower levels of state aid to local schools. Under the "No Bill" situation (and he uses average valuation and per pupil increases and applies them evenly throughout the state, factors which could change the state aid even more) Montgomery says Escanaba Area public schools will receive $11.69 per pupil less. Figuring about 4,600 pupils in the district, such a reduction would mean $53,774 less revenue.

He cites the following per pupil reduction for other school districts in the area: Gladstone $11.53; Brampton Township $13.48; Baldwin Township $15.09; Rapid River $10.64; Big Bay de Noc $11.04; Bark River Harris $9.70; Flat Rock $11.67; Rock $17.49; Manistique Area $11.18.

Montgomery, on the basis of his report, apparently is concerned about the financial troubles that could result for public schools by legislative inaction. Yet, if there is concern, there is inconsistency when he urges the "public school lobby" to move to overcome the position of inaction taken by the Legislature. Urging the "public school lobby" to take some action conveniently shifts the burden off the Legislature's shoulders, but Rep. Montgomery forgets that it is not the "public school lobby" that is allowed to vote in the chambers of the House of Representatives and the Senate.

The people of Michigan elected 110 representatives and 38 senators for that job. And if failure to pass a school aid bill results in serious problems for local schools this fall, blame must go to the Legislature where it belongs.

Dad Can't Read, Either

An adult education authority at Harvard University, using information he collected plus two national surveys, contends more than half of the adult population above the age of 25 "may be functionally illiterate."

Writing in Harvard Educational Review, David Harmon says the commonly accepted Census Bureau definition of functional illiteracy is inadequate. The bureau says only 8.3 per cent are incapable of reading and puts the literacy level at about the fifth grade.

Harmon points out that many common publications, such as newspapers, driving manuals and job application, require 11th grade reading ability. Harmon is saying, in effect, that a person who can read comic books does not necessarily have the ability to read much of the material which he should be able to comprehend.

(Interestingly, he points out, the 11th grade reading level is inadequate for understanding income tax forms. The fact is, not even the people who put the tax forms together can always explain them, and many are college graduates.)

A free society requires an intelligent and well-informed electorate, which necessitates more than soaking up the six o'clock news on television. It means reading, too, and Harmon says half of adult America can't even read this newspaper.

Harmon's findings were studied by the U. S. Office of Education prior to publication. The USOE adult education director said: "We found no fault with it." Which means the department endorses his suggestion that the level of functional literacy should be raised so that people deemed literate are able to read material necessary "to function in our society."

Harmon's contention, apparently well documented with facts, that half of all Americans of voting age can't read is a serious indictment of American education .

It seems that after 50 years of trying to teach people to read by the look-say method, people can't say what they are looking at on the page. Perhaps the country should go back to to the one-room school house with McGuffey's Reader and start all over again.

Letters To The Press

QUALIFICATIONS

Expressing his "viewpoint," Mr. McGoff, the president of Panax Corp., took MSU President Wharton to task for daring to devote his commencement address at Johns Hopkins University to U. S. foreign policy. (Daily Press, June 3). According to Mr. McGoff, Dr. Wharton's qualifications as a foreign policy expert are "slim."

It is obvious that Mr. McGoff has not done his homework. Since it was Johns Hopkins which asked Dr. Wharton to speak on foreign affairs, it semingly was satisfied with his qualifications. As the son of an outstanding career diplomat, Dr. Wharton was weaned on diplomacy and international relations.

Moreover, in his own right Dr. Wharton is a recognized specialist in U. S. foreign policy matters and foreign economic development, particularly in regard to Southeast Asia. His services have been utilized by both the Johnson and Nixon Administrations, he has served on advisory committees to the State Department and the Agency for International Development, and he has been a consultant to the United Nations and several Southeast Asian governments. From 1958 to 1964, he was stationed in Malaysia, where he was responsible for the Agricultural Development Council's programs in Vietnam, Thailand, Cambodia, and Malaysia. This, of course, was the very area Dr. Wharton discussed in his Johns Hopkins speech.

It would appear difficult to find someone with more qualifications than Dr. Wharton to discuss U. S. policy in regard to agrarian reform in Southeast Asia, but perhaps Mr. McGoff is just a hard man to satisfy. In any event, it seems obvious that Dr. Wharton's expertise in Southeast Asian maters exceeds Mr. McGoff's knowledge of university administration.

SMOKE

It is comical to see a newspaper photo of a coal-fired steamship emitting a trail of black and sooty smoke as it cruises along at about 10 miles per hour on one of the rivers of the Great Lakes area.

To top it off, the accompanying caption states that the pictured ship has just been cited and fined for excessive smoking on the Chicago River.

It would be difficult to say just how many excessive smokers are still left among the 180 (approximately) bulk cargo ships on the Great Lakes. An oil fired ship also smokes. This gassy emission is far more hazardous to health than is coal smoke. Or could I be wrong?

There is no question but what a lot of excessive smoking can be eliminated. To expect a steamship fireman to always have the smoke under control borders on the ridiculous.

Until all ships are equipped with chemical sewage disposal units they will be veritable floating outhouses. Some have garbage disposal facilities, but these aren't always used.

Perhaps we will have atomic fueled lakers in time. But smoke can be expected in the inland seas for a long, long time yet—and dust, too.

UNITY NEEDED

Mrs. Ray Gardapee's letter to the Daily Press (June 9) was extremely well written and completely objective. He described briefly accomplishments attributed to Mr. Jerome Albright (Superintendent of Schools at Powers-Spalding before consolidation with Hermansville). This is most commendable. They are brothers-in-law.

Granted, there have been improvements in the school system and curriculum. This is the duty of an administrator and he would be remiss in his duties if he did not work toward these goals.

Let us give credit where credit is due, but let us not deal in half truths. The present day phrase is "tell it like it is."

This area had an unfortunate incident that did cost approximately $20,000. The people recognized their obligation and the school board, not the superintendent, proposed passage of five mills to pay for the error and this was supported by the citizens of the area at the polls.

We enjoy a lighted field and bleachers. Without the funds provided by the Lions Club these would not have become available. To be completely honest, Mr. Albright, is a member of the Lions Club but the projects were mainly one of community activity and development. The glass backboards in the school gymnasium were donated by the Lions Club and there is a plaque in the school stating this fact.

The band director is doing an excellent job on a part time basis. He spends the other half of his time at Bark River-Harris where Mr. Gardapee teaches. Perhaps, Mr. Gardapee has been too busy to notice this fact.

We have enjoyed a foreign student exchange program and summer school program under the administration of Mr. Albright and at the same time we lost accreditation. Accreditation has been lost by other schools and has been regained. We have yet to enjoy this.

We do have portable class rooms as temporary facilities to handle increased student enrollment and the people of this school district will in the future construct permanent facilities as they are required.

A word on scholarships, virtually unknown or the best at the absolute minimum under the present school administration. It may be wise to access the comparative administrative abilities and accomplishments of Mr. Clifford Luft in his capabilities as superintendent at Hermansville. They are a smaller school. In his short association at Hermansville he has demonstrated a leadership ability and the record of scholarships for students through the efforts of Mr. Luft is without equal. This fact may also be varified while he was the principal at Carney-Nadeau High School. There has been a most harmonious relationship in the Hermansville School system between the board, superintendent and faculty. We have not enjoyed this situation in Powers-Spalding for a number of years.

We have had the situation develop under the administration of Mr. Albright where the teaching staff was increased to provide assistance in athletics and counseling. We have enjoyed a good athletic record and whole heartedly support the staff in its efforts. The effectiveness of counseling and guidance of graduating students is one of the most important factors in furthering education and developing future citizens. It would be wise to closely review the very admirable record of Mr. Luft and his staff in this area.

Very little has been said about the students from Hermansville. They are now to come into a system which has been extremely controversial. The students will get along and they are the basis for our foundation of the future. I agree with Mr. Gardapee that unity is required. Unity is not brought about by telling half truths so it will fit the condition most convenient to your thinking.

Members of the interim board are comprised of respected citizens with a sense of civic duty from our respective towns, Powers-Spalding and Hermansville. This Board of Education has unquestionably reviewed the relative qualifications of the gentlemen involved for the superintendent position, Jerome Albright and Clifford Luft. Their decision was to offer the position of superintendent to Mr. Luft, and if unity is to be worked for and achieved why don't we unite behind the decision of the school board and give them our full support to build this new school district into one that we may all be proud of. The time has long since past for us to set aside our petty jealousies and personal likes or dislikes and let the administration of the school district in the hands of a competent board .

Asks Pollutors Be Punished

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., says the Justice Department should prosecute polluters no matter how much money they spend to clean up their own mess.

Reuss, chairman of a House Conservation and Natural Resources subcommittee, in a letter to Atty. Gen. Gen. John N. Mitchell on May 13 expressed concern about an apparent "executive branch policy to limit enforcement" of an 1899 law known as the Refuse Act.

Shiro Kashiwa, an assistant attorney general had written Reuss that it would not be in the government's interest to bring an action against a company which admittedly is discharging refuse into navigable waters, but which, pursuant to a program by the Federal Water Qaulity Administration, is spending significant amounts of money to secure the abatement of that pollution.

The 1899 law provides for a fine of $500 to $2,500 on industrial polluters discharging refuse into the nation's waters without a permit from the Army Engineers.

"The law," Reuss said, doesn't exempt polluters who spend money to clean up their mess. These polluters should have been doing so long ago and not have waited until the pressure of public concern for our environment forces them to abate their pollution."

The Refuse Act, Reuss said, specifically requires U.S. attorneys to vigorously prosecute all polluters who discharge such refuse into a waterway without a permit from the Army Engineers.

Reuss said the Justice Dpeartment should obey the law.

All 18 toll stations on Kentucky's 430-mile system of turnpikes now are equipped with emergency first aid vehicles. The state also is giving first aid training to 360 toll road employes.

1. Double. Something is rotten in the state of Denmark. When you have 12 high-card points and everyone at the table bids before you've even opened wour mouth, it's time to suspect chicanery of some sort. The easiest way of telling partner you have a good hand —including good hearts—is by a double. This is a business double, its chief purpose being to warn partner that East may not have the heart suit he is announcing by his bid.

The bidding will almost surely not die at one heart doubled but, whatever happens next, you should here and now firmly resolve to keep going until your side has either reached game or is assured of a satisfactory penalty. You must have full faith in partner in situations of this sort—unless past experience has shown that your partner has a dash of larceny in his heart, in which case you'll have to do a lot of soul-searching and high-class detective work to figure out who, at the table, is telling the truth.

2. Two hearts. Here the bidding is probably all on the level, with East having a weak hand and long hearts. Again you should feel sure of a game, and the best way of indicating this is by a cuebid in hearts. Your final resting place will depend on partner's response to the cuebid. If by any chance your partner passes two hearts, get yourself a new partner.

3. One notrump. You can't really pass with 9 high-card points. Because of your flat distribution and strength in the adverse suits, you make the bid that comes closst to representing the real nature of your hand, namely, one notrump.

4. Four spades. Here you should bid what you think you can make opposite a takeout double, to wit, game in spades. Simplest is best.

5. Two notrump. Partner probably has the all-around values that you need to fortify your own scattered strength. A nine-trick notrump game is likely to prove far easier to manage than an eleven-trick minor suit game. You have the requisite values for a jump to three clubs, but this would be a misguided effort because you would not be suggesting the strong feling you should have about making game in notrump.

Son Fined, Given Probation After Killing Father

PONTIAC (AP)—The shooting of his father last November is going to cost Kenneth Kowalski, 33, son of the owner of the Kowalski Sausage Co., $1,500 in court expenses and two years of probation.

Oakland County Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem said the younger Kowalski had no previous record and was under stress when he shot his 59-year-old father, Stephen, at the older Kowalski's home. The charge against Kenneth Kowalski was attempted felonious assault.

A policeman with the Beverly Hills Police Department said Kowalski and his son have had a "long time family feud."

Friend's Flea Party Proves One Big Itch

Dear Ann Landers: Several months ago I visited an out-of-town friend who entertained me royally. She gave a big party and several of us ended up sleeping on the floor. That night I picked up fleas. This is no joke. I have tried several "home remedies" including kerosene, DDT and flea powder but nothing works.

The horrible part is that the fleas are not visible and I can't prove I have them. I've gone to two doctors and they both insist I do not have fleas. They say my skin is irritated from scratching. The implication that I am imagining things makes me furious. One doctor gave me a prescription for the itch which I threw out. Why treat the itch when the problem is fleas?

I'm going out of my mind trying not to scratch in company and I am becoming increasingly nervous. Can you suggest something? — Nightmare

Dear Mare: Fleas are visible. If you have them the doctors would be able to see them. My flea-bite expert in Washington, D. C., says it would be virtually impossible for a flea to survive on a person who washes regularly—to say nothing of using DDT or kerosene. Whatever bit you that night died a long time ago. Go back to your friendly dermatologist and stop arguing with him. Let him treat the itch (which was caused by scratching) and be thankful you have nothing worse.

★ ★ ★

Dear Ann Landers: When will you stop kidding your readers and tell them that the basic human problems are insoluable? At best, one can only learn to live with them.

Consider my own case. I am a reasonably intelligent research scientist (Ph D.) who, unfortunately, married a woman who barely made it out of high school. I've worked hard to achieve something. She has piddled away her time and is content to be nothing more than a housekeeper. There is no meaningful communication between us emotionally, intellectually or even socially.

After three major illnesses (emotionally created) and finally major surgery to correct internal bleeding, I have had it. She refuses to let me go, however, saying, "Whomever God has joined together, let no man put asunder."

Don't tell me to consult a marriage counselor, psychiatrist or minister. I have already done so. The marriage counselor told my wife she has lost her identity. (She poohpoohs the idea.) The psychiatrist advised me to get a divorce. The minister said he couldn't see me because he had to go to the funeral of a friend.

I'm sure you can do nothing for me but it might be amusing to see you try. I repeat, "Basic human problems are insoluable."—Ph. D. SOS

Dear Ph. D.: Some basic human problems are insoluable, but your problem is neither basic nor is it insoluable.

The statement, "She refuses to let me go," is the clue. Perhaps she can make it difficult for you to get a divorce, but she cannot force you to live with her. A man who has had three emotionally created illnesses and an ulcer operation and remains under the same roof with a woman he feels is the cause for his illness needs to examine his need for punishment. She could not have done all this without your cooperation.

I hope you have found something more than amusement in my answer. It provides you with a solution to your "insoluable" problem — if you really want one, that is.

CLEAN-CUT appearance of this three-bedroom contemporary ranch is enhanced by large amount of stone across the front. Metal gates at center are nestled under covered portico and lead to atrim court, at the right side of which is the entrance door.

FLOOR PLAN

FLOOR PLANS: Family room in left rear corner of the floor layout is well located for frequent use, since it can be entered from the kitchen, a side entrance or the garage and has sliding glass doors to the rear patio.

S-48 STATISTICS

Design S-48 has a living room, dining room, kitchen-dinette, family room, three bedrooms and two bathrooms, totaling 1745 square feet. There is an antrium court, 20' by 15' 8"; a one-car garage plus a storage alcove; and a laundry-mud room. The over-all dimensions of 50' 4" by 46' include both the garage and the atrium court.

Special Plans Important On Modest Lot

By ANDY LANG

How to achieve maximum livability on a modest lot is becoming more and more of a problem for today's prospective new home owner. Spiraling land and construction costs have spurred the need for ideas to meet the problem.

The atrium concept of this three-bedroom ranch is one solution which combines economy with utility and esthetics. The atrium is an outdoor enclosed courtyard that provides sunshine to adjacent rooms and serves as a desirable private outdoor relaxation area.

In this case, atrium court is in the front center, giving it an additional value as a delightful entrance to the home. Metal gates enclose the court from the street, in front of which there is a covered portico. The door of the atrium is purely up to the home owner. It could be developed as a formally planted court, a Parisien-style outdoor "care," an internal Japanese garden, a Spanish "villa" entrance complete with a fountain, a modern paved court with small planting sections or almost anything else the owner wishes.

The actual front door of the house itself is 20' inside the courtyard. It is flanked by a large sidelight and leads to a spacious reception foyer. There are two closets off the foyer. Straight ahead is an L-shaped living room and dining room arrangement, both with large windows overlooking the rear patio and garden.

A sizable eat-in kitchen is off to the left of the foyer. Its dinette area features a large window wall and door overlooking and connecting to the atrium, making the court an ideal setting for the serving of refreshments and snacks.

An indoor breakfast bar separates the kitchen from the adjoining family room. The latter includes a corner-style, wood-burning stone fireplace, visible from the kitchen, and sliding glass doors leading to the rear patio. Next to the family room is the laundry-mud room, the side service door, a service closet and the inside entrance to the one-car garage.

The bedroom wing at the right side of the house has three bedrooms, two bathrooms and excellent closet space. The master bedroom has three closets, a separate bathroom and a dressing alcove. Each child's bedroom is nicely proportioned and includes an average of 7' of closet. All three bedrooms have cross-ventilation.

Off the garage is a large alcove, which is adjacent to the atrium court, thereby providing additional space for storage and especially for outdoor storage.

All in all, the home puts a lot together; a great deal of practical livability, with an exciting atrium court in a modest-sized home on a modest-sized lot.

with electric air conditioning!

Summertime is to be enjoyed. But without electric air conditioning it's sometimes pretty hard to enjoy life in the heat and humidity.

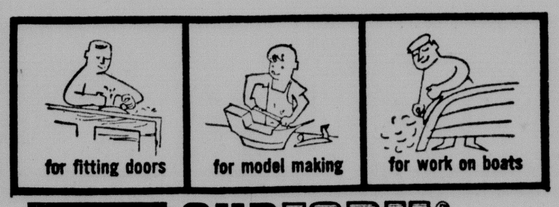

A window air conditioner—or a whole-house central air conditioning system can make a world of difference. Air conditioning is easy to install and economical to operate as it circulates clean, cool dehumidified air.

Sometimes enjoying life is just getting away from distracting noises. Electric air conditioning provides quieter, easier living because the windows are kept closed, thus eliminating outside noise.

Have an electric air conditioner installed and enjoy life this summer.

Schools To Use $67,432 In U.S. Education Funds

The Escanaba Area Public Schools will spend $67,432 in federal funds this summer to help 300 children become better readers, and to help 60 other children to prepare for kindergarten in the fall.

The District also will receive $11,000 for a year-round program in reading for children of junior high age.

Both public and parochial school students benefit from the federally-funded program with 256 public school children and 100 parochial children registered for classes this summer. No breaddown is available for the 60 children in the pre-school readiness program as they all will enter public school kindergarten in the fall.

Three Programs

The Escanaba Area Schools operate three programs with funds provided under Title I of the Elementary-Secondary Education Act—a kindergarten and reading readiness program, a language arts development program, and a year-round junior high reading program.

The kindergarten and reading readiness program, operating for the third year in the district, is under the direction of Ken Mylyla. For six weeks during the summer, 60 boys and girls make field trips for background experience, are helped to be ready for kindergarten in the fall, and introduced to a reading readiness program. This program is held at Washington School and employs four teachers, eight teacher-aides, two cooks, one nurse, and one custodian.

Total cost of the program is $13,905. The Delta-Menominee Health Department cooperates in health needs.

The Language Art Development program, under the direction of Louis Diedrich, serves 300 children, 216 public school and 84 parochial. Operating at the Lemmer and Webster schools for six weeks, five hours a day, this program stresses reading from grades one through five. Twenty-five teachers, two speech-therapists, six teacher aides, one nurse and two custodians are employed. This program costs $47,526 which is covered by federal funds.

Has 56 Students

Arts, with emphasis on reading is provided throughout the school year for 40 public school and 16 parochial school children. Classes meet daily with eight students per section. The $11,000 in federal funds pays for the entire cost of this program, including teachers salaries and supplies.

Health and dental care needs of children in all three programs also are taken care of with federal funds.

The State Department of Education administers the Title I program funds, which are designed for children who need special help. These programs are intended to offer preventive as well as remedial instruction, and hopefully, to develop and evaluate new methods of teaching and learning, school officials said.

To qualify for funds, a school district must show needs (as reading needs in Escanaba shown by a teacher survey), and write a teaching program that must be approved by the State Department of Education. Federal funds are to be used with emphasis first for preschool children, second for early elementary, and third for junior and senior high school students.

Truck Strike End Doubtful

CHICAGO (AP) — Negotiators in the prolonged Chicago area trucking strike - lockout have agreed to submit the carriers' latest offer to union members for a vote, but union leaders are recommending it be rejected.

The offer, announced Thursday, calls for a $1.65 hourly wage increase over 45 months.

While officials of 11 Teamsters locals and the Independent Chicago Truck Drivers Union agreed to allow drivers, dockmen and office workers to vote on the offer, leaders of key locals said members should hold out for the same hourly increase over a 36-month period instead of 45.

Chicago drivers, who negotiate separately from the national Teamsters Union, currently earn up to $4.15 an hour.

Approval of the industry offer would end a strike-lockout that began April 10 and idled some 40,000 drivers and other union members in the Chicago area and caused an estimated loss of $1 billion to the city's economy.

Delta Residents Get $457,000 In Benefits

Social security benefits paid to residents of Delta County totaled $457,000 a month as 1969 ended, Arnold T. Williams, social security district manager in Escanaba reported today.

A benefit increase, signed into law by President Nixon on Dec. 30, 1969, has since raised the monthly rate of payment by 15 per cent for the 5,532 social security beneficiaries in the county, Williams noted.

Of the social security beneficiaries living in this county, 3,611 are retired workers and their dependents. Another 1,277 are receiving benefits as the survivors of workers who have died and 527 are getting benefits as disabled workers or the dependents of disabled workers.

Williams pointed out that although the majority of social security beneficiaries are older people, about one out of every four is under age 60.

Student Benefits

In Michigan, 223,203 people under age 60 are collecting social security payments each month. The 125,844 who are under 18 are receiving payments because a working father or mother has died or is getting social security disability or retirement benefits.

Of the 19,704 who are 18 through 21 years of age, most are getting students' benefits under a provision which permits the continuation of a child's benefits past his or her 18th birthday, and up to age 22 if he or she is attending school full time.

But in this 18 to 22 age group, Williams said, are some other types of beneficiaries, illustrating the broad family protection that is provided working people of all ages under the social security program.

Disabled Aided

A number are the children of retired, disabled, or deceased workers who became disabled before they reached 18 and who will probably never be able to work and become self-supporting. The benefits of these young people, severely handicapped by physical or mental disabilities, will continue indefinitely and benefits are also payable to their mothers if the disabled son or daughter is in the mother's care.

Another small but significant group of youthful social security beneficiaries are those who are receiving social security benefits as disabled workers. Under a 1967 change in the law, disability benefits can be paid to a person who becomes disabled for work even if he has less than five years of work under social security. As little as a year and a half is required in the case of a worker who becomes disabled before age 24.

'Kill Cong' Badges Awarded To GIs

DETROIT (AP) — Specially designed "Kill Cong" badges were awarded by a U.S. Army battalion to soldiers who could prove they killed a Viet Cong last year, according to statements by returned servicemen.

"One way to prove your claim to a badge was to bring back an enemy ear," said former Sgt. Frank Shepard, 23, of suburban Plymouth.

"It (the badges) turned my stomach," he said. "It was like we were on a hunting trip or something."

Badges Awarded In 1969

The badge was awarded by the 5th Battalion, 60th Infantry, 9th Infantry Division while it was stationed at Rach Kien, South Vietnam, during the summer of 1969, according to Shepard.

He said the order which created the badges was signed June 28, 1969, by Capt. Philip F. Kearns, who was infantry adjutant for the battalion.

Kearns, who now teaches in the ROTC program at LaSalle College in Philadelphia, declined comment when contacted by newsmen.

Shepard, who served as battalion clerk, said the badges were made for the battalion by South Vietnamese laundry workers and were usually presented at company formations.

"One way to prove your claim to a badge," said Shepard, "was to bring back an enemy ear. They kept a string of ears at headquarters, which I saw. The ears were rotting and they smelled pretty bad. Finally I asked if we could throw them out." Shepard said he was told to mind his own business.

Olive Green Background

The badges had an olive-green background with the words Sat Cong (Kill Cong) lettered on it in black, he said.

Pete Magee, who now works in Grand Rapids, Mich., said he processed most of the requests for Sat Cong badges while he was battalion clerk. He said he "understood" that no paperwork on the Sat Cong badge was ever to be passed on to the higher command.

"For all other awards," said Magee, "you needed a synopsis of the event, eyewitness statements, lots of paperwork. But there was no paperwork on the Sat Cong badge."

Reject Badge Plan

Robert M. Morris, another battalion veteran who now works in a Reno, Nev., grocery, said, "The badges were wrong. You shouldn't get a badge for killing somebody.

"But it's part of the war, that's all. Nobody knows what it's like over there. There's no way to explain it."

In addition to badges, Magee said battalion members who could prove they killed a Viet Cong were rewarded with rest and recreation leaves to Vung Tan, an oceanside rest area.

"All we heard was body count," said Shepard. "It was like an obsession. Every morning they held a formation and wrote the latest body count on a chalk board."

1,000 Men Involved

The battalion was comprised of about 1,000 men, including five rifle companies, and operated about 15 miles south of Saigon. "I processed about 100 badges," said Magee. "I think most of them were the result of night ambushes."

Shepard said he has an order signed by Capt. Kearns and which Shepard said created the badge. It reads:

"1. Any member of this battalion who personally kills a viet Cong will be presented a Sat Cong Badge (Kill Vietcong) for his gallant accomplishment.

"2. Sat Cong badges will only be given to those individuals who accomplish the above-mentioned feat. There will be no honorary presentations.

"3. Furthermore, only personnel who have personally killed a Viet Cong will be authorized to wear a Sat Cong Badge

"4. Company commanders will draw Sat Cong badges from the executive officer who will maintain over all control."

Not In Violation

An Army spokesman said the badges were not a direct violation of either Army regulations or the rules of international warfare. But the spokesman added, "There is no such (official) badge in the Army and no commander has the authority to create such a badge."

When Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich., inquired about the badges to the Defense Department, the department replied by letter dated Dec. 18, 1969, that "Information received from headquarters, 2nd Field Force, Viet Nam, indicates that the Sat Cong badge was a program recently instituted in the 5th Battalion, 60th Infantry."

The letter, signed by Col. C.T. Benedict, Chief of the Personnel Services Division, said due to the deaths of the battalion commander and brigade commander "additional information concerning the badge and its purpose could not be furnished."

"However," Benedict wrote, "the badges and emblems have been removed from uniforms and action has been taken to prevent any similar occurances in the future."

Orioles Romp To 9-1 Victory

By The Associated Press

Boog Powell, Frank Robinson, Dave Johnson and Merv Rettenmund all slugged homers and Mike Cuellar hurled a sparkling two - hitter for his seventh win this season as Baltimore romped over the California Angels 9-1.

But none of the acknowledged hero's in the Orioles win could have been any happier than singles hitters Andy Etchebarren and Mark Belanger. Etchebarren ripped an eighth inning run-producing single to raise his average to .194 and Belanger ended a string of 33 hitless trips to the plate with a second inning single off the gloves of pitcher Rudy May and second baseman Sandy Alomar.

In the only other scheduled American League games, Detroit topped Milwaukee 6-2 and Cleveland nipped Oakland 6-5 in 10 innings. The Washington at Kansas City contest was called by rain.

The Orioles' four homers included a three-run shot by Johnson and the 17th of the year for Powell which gives him the AL home run lead. Cuellar, 7-4, issued a first inning double to Jarvis Tatum and a single by Sandy Alomar in the third.

Chuck Hinton clubbed a two - run pinch homer in the ninth to tie the score and rookie Roy Foster slammed another two-run blow to give the Indians their victory. Jack Heideman and Eddie Leon also crashed homers for Cleveland. Felipe Alou and Joe Rudi drilled solo blows for the A's.

"It was the biggest thrill I've ever had in baseball," said Foster. I've hit home runs before but this one won a ball game.

Michigan State gymnasts won two championships in the 1970 National AAU meet. Charles Morse, soph from Livonia, was first on side horse, and graduate student Toby Towson topped the floor exercise field.

Northrup's Grand Slam Tops Hapless Brewers

DETROIT (AP)—Loading the bases against Jim Northrup is like waving a scarlet cape in front of a snorting bull.

The challenge seems to trigger a special impulse in the gray matter of the "Grey Fox" and pitchers might as well start heading for the showers.

Northrup cracked the eighth grand slam homer of his career, second best in the American League, as he turned a 2-2 tie into a 6-2 Detroit Tiger victory over Milwaukee with two out in the eighth inning Thursday night.

3 Game Sweep

The win gave the Tigers a sweep of a three game series over the Brewers, who have lost 17 consecutive road games. Detroit opens a three-game home stand against California tonight with possibly Mickey Lolich, 6-6, or John Hiller, 3-2, pitching against the Angels' Andy Messersmith, 5-5.

"Some people call it luck and others call it talent,'" Northrup laughed heartily, as he headed for a mirror in the dressing room to comb his graying black hair.

"It's a challenge to hit with men on and I've always liked that," he stressed. "I hit better with men on and always have."

The 30-year-old outfielder hit four regular season grand slammers in 1968 when Detroit won the pennant, then tagged one of Larry Jaster of St. Louis in one World Series game. He didn't hit any last season and it looked like the knack had faded.

His blast was the second grand slam for the Tigers in three games. Willie Horton hit one Tuesday night, plus two other homers against the Brewers.

O'Donoghue Victim

Reliever John O'Donoghue was Northrup's victim. Gene Brabender, who had pitched a three - hitter going into the eighth, loaded the bases with a pair of walks and a single. Reliever Dave Baldwin struck out Horton and O'Donoghue came in to pitch to Northup with two out.

The slender, lefthanded hitter tagged a 3-1 fast ball off the southpaw and it bounced off the upper deck facing in right field. It was Northrup's heads - up baserunning in the seventh, together with Brabender's wild pickoff attempt at second base, that gave Detroit a 2-2 tie going into the eighth.

Northrup walked, took second on a bunt, and scored as Brabender, now 2-8, threw wild into center field.

On Again, Off Again

Actually, Northrup did a little of everything—and not all good. In second inning he lost Mike Hegan's fly ball in the lights and stood bewildered in center field while rightfielder Al Kaline made a hard running catch. But in the top of the eighth Northrup took a home run away from Ted Savage by making a one-handed grab of his fly ball 430 feet in deepest center next to the flag pole.

"The grand slam meant much," he smiled, "but I like to make good defensive plays too. When I came up to the majors (1965) everyone said I was a bad outfielder but since then I think I've shown them I'm not."

Elliott Maddox drove in the Tigers' first run with a single in the third.

Niekro Wins

Joe Niekro, 6-5, scattered seven hits, three in the fifth when the Brewers scored twice on Hegan's single, a triple by Ted Kubiak and Phil Rofo's single.

Detroit reliever Tom Timmerman got the final two outs of the game after a Milwaukee threat, picking up his second straight save since being recalled from the Toledo Mud Hens of the International League.

The victory pushed the Tigers a half game ahead of idle Boston into third place in the AL East, but they still trail first-place Baltimore by nine games.

Reid Has Mystery Grip On 1st Place In Western Open

CHICAGO (AP) — Steve Reid, a six-year circuit player with only one major victory, had a "mystery" grip on first-place as the $130,000 Western Open Golf Tournament entered its second day today.

Reid, 33, fired a paradoxical 30-36—66 round over Beverly Country Club's par 36-35—71 tightly-wooded acres yesterday for a one-stroke lead over a congested flock of eight runnersup deadlocked at 67.

Reid, who has earned only $11,000 this year and scored his only PGA triumph in the 1968 Azalea Open, attributed his five under-par triumph to a change in his club grip and mechanics of his swing before the 1970 tour began.

"I can't explain the grip change I made, but it has changed my game," said Reid. "But it apparently is paying off, even though I was playing so poorly two months ago, I almost switched back to my old style of gripping the club."

Reid didn't say whether his newfound grip applied to his putter.

But it was a devastating touch on the greens that gave Reid his six-under-par 30 first nine after he opened on the flipflop start, with a one-over-par 36 on Beverly's back nine.

Reid trickled home six birdie puttis of 40, 20, 15, 12, 9 and 8 feet, as he sneaked in one stroke ahead of such 67 shooters as Arnie Palmer, Dow Finsterwald, Bob Charles, Johnny Pott, Dick Lotz, Bobby Nichols, Tommy Jacobs and Hugh Royer.

In a 26-player logjam at 72, six strokes off the pace, was pre-tournament favorite Jack Nicklaus, who commented: "On this kind of course, you can open with a 72 and still be a contender.

Nicklaus blamed his one-over-par round on "pulling the wrong clubs out of the bag—I just played 13 of 14 holes the wrong way and didn't putt well at all."

Palmer, again drawing a huge "Arnie's Army" gallery, seemed ready for a strong run at the $26,000 top prize. Rallying from a startling four-putt second green, Palmer wound up with five birdies and an impressive nine one-putt greens with his 34-33 round.

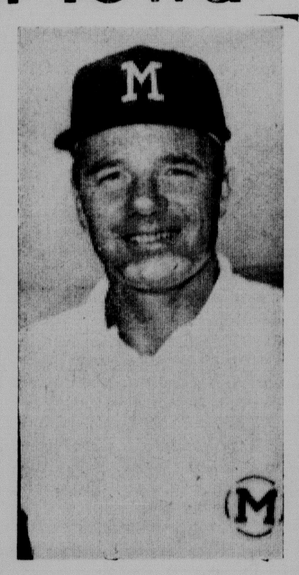

After today's second round, the 50-player field will be cut to the low 70s scorers and ties for the final two rounds.

Elliott Takes Over At Iowa

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — Chalmers B. "Bump" Elliott, named athletic director at the University of Iowa Thursday, has a good head start toward winning the devotion of Hawkeye football fans—who are both legion and vociferous.

Elliott, 45, became popular with many fans during five years (1952-56) as an assistant Iowa football coach under Forest Evashevski, the man he will replace as athletic director and who recommended him for the job.

"My wife and I have reflected many times on our fine years at Iowa City," Elliott told a news conference after his appointment was approved by the State Board of Regents Thursday. "I'm deeply honored to return to Iowa as athletic director."

Chalmers (Bump) Elliott

Elliot left Iowa in 1958 to return to his alma mater, the University of Michigan, as a backfield coach. He was promoted to head coach in 1958 with the retirement of Bennie Osterban.

He coached the Wolverines to a nine-year record of 51-42-3, including Big Ten and Rose Bowl championships in 1964, before taking over as Michigan associate athletic director in 1968.

Elliott steps into a tight situation at Iowa. Evashevski's resignation last month was the culmination of a feud with head football coach Ray Nagel, who was relieved of his duties the day Evashevski resigned only to be reinstated four days later.

But Elliott expressed optimism about the future Thursday.

"If we are all trying to win at Iowa then we have to work together," said the man Evashevski had recommended as being the one to unify the athletic program again. "I think this can be done and will be done."

Recreation Leagues Registration Slated

Registration for Recreation League Baseball and Softball will begin at the Catherine Bonifas Civic Center on Monday, June 15 at 10 a. m. Signing up of players will continue through the week from Monday to Friday from 10 in the morning until noon and from 1:30 to 4 in the afternoon.

Each year the Recreation League registers about 200 boys who do not belong to an organized baseball group in the city. The leagues are intended to serve boys who are anxious to play baseball or softball but are not members of a Little League or Babe Ruth League team. The program operates informally and uniforms are not provided. The only criterion is a desire to play ball.

The program provides wholesome recreation under competent supervision and the youngsters acquire game skills by instruction in baseball fundamentals. The boys are taught to throw, hit, field, slide, and run bases. They are also given an opportunity to play several positions and are guided in choosing a position suitable to their abilities. Sportsmanship is emphasized and every precaution is taken to prevent accidents and injuries.

Boys 7 to 10 years of age are placed in the Beginners League and boys 10 to 13 are enrolled in the Junior Division. Ten-year-olds may play in the Beginners League if their size and ability indicate that they belong to that group. The Cadet League is for boys 14 to 17 years of age. Both hardball and softball will be offered to the Junior and Cadet leaguers but activity in the Beginners League will be confined to hardball.

One or two games will be played each week at Royce Park with beginners playing in the morning and the older boys playing in the afternoon. Once each week games will be scheduled at the Webster playground and the new Jefferson School. If a game conflicts with swimming lessons, the recreation department recommends that the youngsters attend swimming class.

Boys will be excused from games and practice sessions when these activities conflict with Bible Camp, Boy Scout Camp, Band Camp, summer school, swimming classes or family vacations.

Teams will be organized on a school basis during the week of June 15 and official league play will begin on June 22. No tryouts are necessary and all registered boys will be placed on a team and given a chance to play in every game.

Boys are asked to pay a $1 fee when they register in order to be eligible for the annual picnic at Ludington Park on Aug. 6.

The recreation department furnishes all necessary equipment except gloves. Boys' gloves should be plainly marked with the owner's name. The week's schedule will be reported on Radio Stations WDBC and WLST and will appear in the Saturday edition of the Escanaba Daily Press.

Lions Top VFW; Snare LL Lead

VFW tucked away the first half championship just in time as they opened the second half of the Escanaba Jaycee Little League race by dropping a pair to the Lions. The Vets pushed Lion ace, Kevin Cutler, to the wall before they dropped the opener 7 to 6, but the Lions proved that they were for real last night when they drove Jeff Abrahamson from the mound in the third with a nine hit attack and eventually won 13 to 2. VFW opened strong with 3 straight hits before Jim Wendleberger settled down and stopped the first half champs on one more hit.

Kiwanis got another strong pitching performance from Mark Beveridge as he followed up last week's no hitter with a 9 to 0 shutout over the Bankers. However, the best pitching effort of the week went to the veteran Mike Smith who threw a no hitter to gain his first win of the season in Rotary's 14 to 0 romp over Credit Union.

Pete Bohn came on strong for the Eagles as they defeated Kiwanis 3 to 1 and handed Ed LeGault his first loss of the season. Jon Sankovich led the Eagles attack with a 2 for 3 effort and tops the league with a .552 record. Teammate Eric Hanson is right behind him with an even .500, while Randy Kleiman of the Bankers and Beveridge of Kiwanis are the league's only other .400 hitters. Cutler tops the pitchers with a 3 and 0 record.

In other Little League news, league officials announced that players would again take part in the annual soap sale which will get underway next Wednesday. They also announced the initiation of a "rookie" league for players who were not regulars in championship play. Games will preceed tournament team practice which is expected to begin the first part of July.

Teamsters Upset Kiwanis 18-14

The Teamsters took over first place in the Escanaba Babe Ruth League after scoring an 18-14 slugfest victory over Kiwanis Thursday night.

The win was the second in a row for the Teamsters without a loss.

Using 14 hits to good advantage, the winners overcome 10 walks by Kiwanis to gain a win for Tom Ritter, his second in two starts. Mike Daily was pinned with the loss.

Ritter led the hitting department with four safeties, including a double. Steve Belland aded three more, one a two bagger, and Ricky Anderson pitched in with three singles.

Jim Joran paced the losers at the plate with three base hits. Nevala, Dailey, Peterson and Belanger each collected a pair for Kiwanis.

Ritter faced only 10 batters in the last three innings, allowing only one hit after the fourth frame.

Runs, Double Plays, Spark Hand's Victory For Cubs

By The Associated Press

If runs and double plays are a pitcher's best friends, Bill Hands of the Chicago Cubs isn't lacking for companionship this season.

The right-hander, who won 20 games and was one of the few bright spots in the Cubs' stretch collapse last year, got some of each Thursday night in turning back the San Diego Padres 7-1 and boosting his record to 8-4.

The double plays cropped up when Hands needed them most. The Padres had tied the score 1-1 in the last of the first and had the bases loaded, but Hands induced Ivan Murrell to bounce into an inning-ending double play.

A single and a walk had Hands in trouble to start the second, but Jim Hickman started a snappy first-to-third-to-second twin killing on Mike Corkins' bunt and Hands fanned Dave Campbell. Then he settled down.

Elsewhere in the National League, Montreal turned on Cincinnati 8-4, Los Angeles outlasted St. Louis 2-1 in 12 innings and Atlanta defeated Philadelphia 6-4.

Maury Wills opened the Dodgers' 12th with a single, took second on Frank Linzy's wild pitch and scored the winning run on a double by Willie Davis to topple the Cardinals.

Starters Don Sutton of Los Angeles and Steve Carlton of St. Louis battled through 10 innings locked in a 1-1 tie. The Cards scored in the fourth on singles by Richie Allen and Joe Torre and Joe Hague's sacrifice fly and the Dodgers tied it up in their half of the inning on Manny Nota's second homer of the season.

The Expos rocked 11-game winner Jim Merritt for five runs in the first inning and stopped the Reds' latest winning streak at five games, handing the lefthander his fourth setback.

Don Hahn and Rusty Staub started the onslaught with doubles and Adolfo Phillips and Coco Laboy singled before John Bateman unloaded his fourth home run, a three-run shot.

Aided by homers from the bats of Tony Perez, No. 22, and Johnny Bench, No. 19, the Reds chipped away at Carl Morton, 6-3, and got to within 5-4 but Bob Bailey belted a two-run pinch homer in the sixth to put the game out of reach.

Old Hoyt Wilhelm choked a seventh-inning Philadelphia rally with a double play pitch that helped the Braves beat the Phillies.

Wilhelm, who'll be 47 next month, came on with one out, the bases loaded, a 3-0 count on Tony Taylor and the Braves leading 6-1. He completed the walk to Taylor, forcing in one run, and then walked Oscar Gamble, pushing another across. He then went to a 3-2 count on Ron Stone before getting him to hit into a double play.

Rico Carty's triple and the first of Orlando Cepeda's three singles drove in two runs of loser Rick Wise in the third and Cepeda singled home another after Carty bounced into a bases-loaded double play.

Goebels took an early 3-0 lead in the top of the first inning when Dick Johnson singled, Bob Irish doubled and John Way homered.

Don Martineau started off the inning with a double off Ray Payment, Goebels pitcher, followed by a single by Jan Moran, scoring Martineau. Al Erickson and Tony Derkos, the Merchants pitcher, walked and Wally Flath hit a two run single. Bob Corriveau chased Payment from the mound when he lined a two run single to center. Al Almonroeder relieved Payment and retired the side with the Merchants leading 5-4.

The Merchants added another run in the third on a solo homerun by Erickson and rallied for four more runs in the bottom of the fourth to clinch their fifth win of the season against only one defeat. Erickson again had the key hit in the inning when he hit a single with the bases loaded.

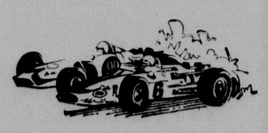

Leading the Merchants attack with two hits apiece were Flath, Martineau, Corriveau and Erickson. Bob Irish paced Goebels with two hits while John Way homered. Derkos picked up the mound decision, while Payment took the defeat.

The Escanaba Merchants will travel to Ishpeming Saturday night for a exhibition doubleheader with the Marquette County All-Stars, who defeated the Iron Mountain All-Stars 5-2 and 3-0 last Saturday night.

In Memoriam

Meunier

In loving memory of our daughter Lori Meunier, who passed away June 12, 1965.

Sunshine passes, shadows fall,
Love's remembrance outlasts all.
And through the years be many or few,
They are filled with remembrance dear of you.

Sadly Missed by her parents and brothers, Paul, Glen Mark, John

Dugener

In loving memory of John Dugener, who passed away five years ago yesterday, June 11, 1965.

"Gone, but not forgotten."

Sadly Missed by his Wife, Children and Grandchildren

Dahl

In loving memory of our beloved husband, father and grandfather, Adolph Dahl, who passed away two years ago, today, June 12, 1970.

We do not need a special day,
To bring him to our minds.
The days we do not think of him
Are very hard to find.
Within our store of memories,
He holds a place apart
For no one else should ever be
More cherished in our hearts.
The years may wipe out many things,
But this they wipe out never;
The memory of those happy days,
When we were all together.

Sadly Missed by His Wife, Vera and Children

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — Ray Stevens, a quiet and unassuming young man from Nashville, will become the star of his own television series at a time when his record, "Everything is Beautiful," is hitting the top of the best-seller charts.

He will be launched June 20 as Andy Williams' summer replacement on NBC and will appear on eight programs and two repeats called "Andy Williams Presents the Ray Stevens Show??"

The double question marks of the title—"There are supposed to be three," said Ray—are an inside joke. When Williams and associates told NBC executives their summer plans, the first question was, "Who is Ray Stevens?"

"They also brought a sack of mail sent to me," Ray said. "I am told that after Andy and after his bear, I was getting the most mail."

Stevens appeared as a guest on six of Andy's shows during the past season and is so tangled in Williams' business that he almost qualifies as an adopted brother.

Not yet 30, Stevens majored in music at Georgia State and earned part of his keep by playing piano. This expanded into a popular combo and his comedy was sharpened by filling time between the dance numbers.

"I moved to Nashville in 1962," Stevens said, "and was making good money from my own records, arranging for others, producing records and playing piano for other performers."

Two years ago Don Williams, Andy's brother who manages musical talent, went on a scouting trip to Nashville. Don became Ray's manager and a little over a year later Ray was booked on Andy's show. Stevens best-selling records are turned out by Williams' recording company.

The summer series was taped during five hectic weeks in Toronto. Since even Andy's bear is on vacation, Ray has his own company including Mama Cass and the British singer Lulu.

His first hit was "Ahab the Arab," a comedy piece, but Stevens' moods as composer and performer are many. Currently he is concerned with recording a new piece for which he has high hopes.

"Somebody said—and I'd been thinking—that what this country needs is a patriotic song that is hip enough to be accepted by the record buyers and become established as a hit," he said.

"I figure I'm about average in everything from politics to morals, so I've written about patriotism, seen through the eyes of a guy who is neither Jerry Rubin nor George Wallace. I'm just saying let's get together and take the same path down the middle and get the problems solved. I hope it means what 'God Bless America' meant when it came out."
